COLORED ODD FELLOWS

The State convention of the Colored Odd Fellows, was held Wednesday, at the State Armory, West Newton. Over 250 delegates attended. The convention was presided over by Eugene M. Lomax of Curve Street, who is Past District Grand Master of the organization. A committee from Newton Lodge of West Newton, assisted in making the visit of the delegates enjoyable. The convention opened in the morning, with a business session, followed by a sumptuous banquet at noon at which Mayor Childs, Alderman Richard Leahy, and Playground Commissioner, Thomas Lyons were speakers. Following another business session in the afternoon, dancing was enjoyed at the armory in the evening. At this feature were many guests from all over Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Many of the delegates attended the ball game between the Saxony All-Stars and the Boston Royal Giants, a colored team, at Victory Field. The ladies auxiliary of the Order, the "Household of Ruth," aided materially in the work of entertaining the visitors.

Attendants were Miss Margaret Barry and Marie Martin. A collation was served, arrangements were in charge of Miss Alice Barry and Mrs. T. J. Kelley.

Miss Taffe will become the bride of Clarence L. Storer of Waltham, in the late fall.

CLIMBS RAINIER

Battling his way over a wilderness of ice, across bottomless crevasses and along rocky ledges at the very edge of infinity, to three miles above sea level, Francis W. Kent, of 42 Waterston Road, Newton, Mass., reached the summit of Mount Rainier, 14,408 feet high, in Rainier National Park, a few days ago.

Rainier is the third tallest peak in the United States, but though Mount Whitney in California and Mount Elbert in Colorado exceed it in height by a few feet, neither approach it in difficulty of ascent. Rainier is rated as one of the most difficult mountains in the world to scale and prospective climbers are submitted to a thorough scrutiny before permission to attempt the ascent is given.

The start of the long trip was made from Paradise Inn, 5,557 feet above sea-level, at 1:45 in the afternoon, and Camp Muir, the stone shelter cabins at the half-way point at the 10,000-foot elevation, was reached shortly after 6 P. M. Here the party rested until a little before 3 the next morning, when the drive for the summit was begun. After a gruelling pull, first in the eerie moonlight and later in the rising sun, the party attained the crater in the summit of the mountain at about 8:30 A. M. An indication of the difficulty of the climb may be gained from the fact that as the party neared the summit, only 20 or 30 steps could be taken between rests. They were forced to rest standing, as reclining in the snow and rising again would consume too much energy.

Half an hour was spent in the fantastic steam caves in the crater of the extinct volcano before the descent was begun. Paradise Valley was again reached shortly before 3 in the afternoon.

Mr. Kent had as his guide, Stuart Twiss, an experienced member of the Rainier National Park guide service.

FIRE RECORD

Wednesday was a hot day; it was a humid day. And at no place in Newton was there more heat and moisture than at the corner of Beacon and Chestnut streets, Waban, where, at 4:40 P. M., a truck owned by the Newton Ice Company caught fire and burned. There was a load of ice on the truck when the fire started, but much of it melted during the blaze. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is suspected that the terrific heat caused spontaneous combustion in the ice.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARDSON ABROAD

Mr. Frank L. Richardson of the Newton Trust Company, and his wife, departed from New York Sunday on the Leviathan for a six weeks' tour through France, Switzerland and Italy.

ABOUT TOWN

The Newton police frequently receive complaints about barking dogs and crowing roosters which disturb the slumbers of neighborhoods. But, an unusual call came to them at 1 o'clock Thursday morning, when, from the vicinity of Charles street, Auburndale, someone telephoned that a baby in that district had been bawling so loudly and so long, that hardly anyone in the neighborhood had been able to sleep a wink. Motorcycle Officers Goddard and McHugh were detailed to proceed to the scene of the broadcasting. It is not known whether they used soothing syrup, a teething ring, or resorted to bedtime stories, but they succeeded in having the weeping of the suffering infant made less audible to the annoyed parties.

Last evening, we drove our broncho into a filling station at Watertown. Usually we patronize Newton filling stations, but the broncho needed some air in its tires and we are so sensitive that we dislike to use the air at a filling station, unless we reciprocate. So, although our bucking driver really needed no gasoline, we bought a couple of gallons, just to a good sport.

As we stopped opposite the pump, the young man in charge was proceeding to fill one of those "safety cans" with a gallon of gasoline. The youth for whom he was filling the can stood about two feet away with a lighted cigar in his hand. Twenty-five feet distant was a huge tank wagon discharging its load into the tank of the filling-station. The thought occurred to us that we were in a situation where we might instantly be blown into Paradise or Sheol, but fate was kind. We suggested to the filling station attendant that for his own safety he should refuse to supply the explosive fuel to reckless customers who held lighted cigars or cigarettes. According to him, not only do many autoists endanger themselves and others through this dangerous practice, but many become indignant when they are requested to shut-off their motors of their cars, before the filling station attendants start to pour gasoline into the tanks on said cars. These persons apparently don't realize the fact that gasoline fumes explode easily.

One man of our acquaintance recently returned from an auto tour of Canada. He brought back with him two pint of spirits frumment. How did he get them by the officials at the border? His wife had a pint bottle concealed (?) in each stocking she was wearing. The Customs Inspector at the border thought, perhaps, the lady was a ballet dancer.

The Volstead Act may have deprived many our citizens of the privilege of quenching their thirst by quaffing malt liquors. The American public is not suffering, however. Most of our people have learned to enjoy temperance beverages. If one desires to observe

NEW DISTRICTS

The County Commissioners of Middlesex County have completed the work of framing the representative districts under the new apportionment and Newton is given four representatives, to be elected in two districts, two representatives to a district. Wards one, two, three and seven will be the 4th district, having 11,193 legal voters and Wards four, five and six will be the 5th district, having 10,092 legal voters. The new alignment places Representatives Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill and Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler of Newton Highlands in the new 5th district, where they will probably have no opposition for renomination and Representative Hollis of Newton in the new 4th district, in which he and one other candidate must be selected at the coming primary. Nomination papers for representatives must be signed by at least 5 legal voters in each ward, (20 in district 4 and 15 in district 5) filed with the City Clerk for certification before August 20, and filed at the State House by August 24th.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

There will be a special meeting of the aldermen next Monday evening, for the purpose of drawing jurors. At this session the matter of re-zoning Athelstane and Oxford Roads, Parker and Paul Streets, and other parts of that section of Newton Centre, will be discussed. At the last meeting of the aldermen, there was a decided difference of opinion among Newton Centre residents on this question. Many favor restricting the district to single houses.

Another matter to be considered at the meeting will be the petition of Dr. Fred M. Lowe for a hearing on the restriction of the land at the corner of Washington and Putnam Streets. This corner is between the residence of Dr. Lowe and an attractive little park on which stands a memorial. It is proposed to replace the small residence which has been located on the land there with a business block which will jut out to the street line, and obscure the attractive little memorial park, as well as create a hazard to traffic. Dr. Lowe petitions for a 15 foot setback for the proposed building.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ida Allen, a prominent member of Mrs. E. A. Cunningham Tent, Daughters of Veterans, was tendered a birthday party Monday evening, in Temple Hall, in honor of her 75th birthday.

Mrs. Allen is past president of Tent 2, past president of the Department of Massachusetts and Past National President.

The growing popularity of sodas and sundaes, one should visit, on an evening the very attractive spa at Newtonville, conducted by Lane & Cox.

THRIFT SHOP

The hot weather has not kept back any of the earnest women of the Hospital Aid Association, who hopefully opened the Thrift Shop at 895 Washington street, Newtonville, and have kept it running all summer every day but Thursdays. It has meant real work and real sacrifice to keep steadily at it, but it has proved a success from both angles on which it is based: financial help for the Newton Hospital, and a place where self-respecting working people may buy useful things at a very small price. During August the shop will only open Wednesdays and Saturdays; in September it is planned to resume the full schedule. It is intended to make this a permanent industry, but to do that the Hospital Aid must have a large and interested co-operation from the public; housekeepers must take trouble to save all articles they do not want and notify the ladies in charge or send them to the shop; storekeepers must give their damaged and unsalable goods; manufacturers must give their "seconds," for it is your hospital and your effort is needed to support it and make it pay.

Perhaps you need a used refrigerator for your camp—we have two ready to sell—a fine complete shower bath ready to install, a carved library table, an old fashioned rocker, dozens of piano player rolls, and books you might like for summer reading. But please send the word along for contributions—furniture, clothing, toys, children's clothes and dishes of all descriptions. Perhaps you'd like to help sell too, then send your name to Mrs. C. P. Clark, Newton Centre, but please be one of us and help! Right here too, we wish to thank all the manufacturers and everyone who has already been interested and helpful.

AIRSHIP VISITS NEWTON

Residents of the eastern sections of the city were afforded an exceptional opportunity last evening to view the huge airship "Los Angeles" at close range. The silver coated product of the famous Zeppelin factory gracefully soared over the Charles from the direction of West Watertown about 7 o'clock, passed over Mount Ida and Chestnut Hill, and continued on its return journey to the mooring mast on the Patoka in Newport harbor. The largest airship in the world appeared to be between 1500 and 2000 feet up.

POLITICAL NOTES

It is rumored that Mr. Strabo V. Claggett of Auburndale, who was the Democratic candidate for state auditor, two years ago, will run for the same office this fall. Major Frank W. Cavanaugh of Newton Centre, is expected to have the Democratic nomination this fall for secretary of state.

POLICE NEWS

Three West Newton youths—Alphonse Chesley 16, of 23a Gerard Court; Lanier Quinn 17, of 1113 Washington Street; and Harold Valentine 16, of 7 Greenwood Avenue; were in Court Monday morning, charged with the larceny of various articles from churches and houses at Newtonville and West Newton. Among the loot recovered by Inspectors Good and Shaughnessy was—two diamond rings stolen from the home of Arthur D. Cook, 22 Barnstable Road, West Newton; two typewriters taken from the school of the Newtonville Methodist Church, a sword taken from the vestry of St. John's Episcopal Church and radios from the home of Charles A. Breed at 445 Newtonville Avenue. The boys were detected by Special Officer Timmins of Station 1, Boston; who noticed them as they were endeavoring to sell one of the rings, valued at $700, in a pawnshop on Hanover Street, Boston. The other ring, valued at $800, was recovered from a man at Nantasket. He was to have paid $25, for it. The Cook house, where these rings were stolen on July 25, while the family was away, was entered through a window left open by some men who had been working at the house. The cases against the boys were continued until this morning.

Joseph Pachelot of Williams court, Upper Falls, was arrested Sunday morning by Officer Hamill for stealing an automobile tire from a car on Needham street. In court Monday, he was given a suspended sentence of 2 months in jail.

L. M. Papato of 55 Jefferson street, Newton, was the victim of some contemptibly spiteful person. Tuesday evening Papato parked his auto behind his residence. Wednesday morning when he went out to his car, he found a half dozen nails driven into each of the four tires on the vehicle.

Francis G. Parker of 40 Westbourne road, Newton Centre, was arrested Tuesday morning at 4:40 on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried August 12th.

Fred S. Brown of Washington park, Newtonville, was in court yesterday, charged by Traffic Officer O'Donnell with failing to stop when signalled. He was found not guilty.

Samuel Trimble of Brookline was fined $20 yesterday by Judge Bacon for speeding.

PLAYGROUND MATTERS

The Playground Commissioners of Newton, Mr. Albert P. Carter, Mr. Charles F. Johnson, Jr., Mr. Thomas J. Lyons, Mr. Ralph C. Henry, Mr. E. Ray Speare, and Superintendent Ernst Hermann of the City of Newton Playground Department have received invitations to attend the National Recreation Congress to be held October 18-22, under the auspices of the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

"The annual Recreation Congress is of great value to delegates from the City of Newton and hundreds of other cities because it is a clearing house for recreation ideas from communities throughout the United States and Canada," says Mr. Ernst Hermann. "Every recreation leader shares in a regular exchange of ideas through the bulletin service of the P. R. A. A., but the Congress permits a first-hand discussion of principal problems which arise in the course of the year's work. Addresses by nationally-known governmental and civic leaders are supplemented not only by discussions on technical recreation problems but also by classes and consultation service in game leadership, community dramatics, music and nature study. To the parent, the Congress gives opportunity to learn how recreation can help build home life and how play influences the health, happiness and character of children. To the public official, this conference gives a chance to see how recreation may be used to build citizenship. To the social worker, it offers a knowledge of how recreation may be employed in health work, probation, psychiatry, family rehabilitation, community organization, safety programs and community building. To the recreation executive, the privilege of exchanging experiences and good fellowship with other workers and of getting new ideas is the benefit of the Congress. Anybody interested in this important subject of 'Leisure Time Employment' and anybody who would like to attend this inspiring Congress may address E. Hermann at City Hall for further information."

THOMAS OSBORNE, JR.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

The Newton Catholic Club which burned up the two-league for the first three weeks of the second half of the season, has been having hard sledding this week. Last Friday night, the West Newton team went down to defeat at the hands of the Upper Falls nine 5-1 at Upper Falls after running up a string of four straight. Monday night the West Newton A. C. took another fall out of the Catholic Club on the common and won out 2-1. At a meeting of the league managers this week the protest of the Upper Falls team against the use of Hickey, who played first base for the Catholic Club team in the first game between the two teams was upheld, and that game will have to be replayed. After considerable discussion the Upper Falls team showed themselves to be real sportsmen and consented to let Mr. Hickey play in the game to be replayed and also for the remainder of the season. The loss of these three games has meant a lot to the Catholic Club and has forced them out of first place. The Upper Falls team which had lost but the one protested game is now safely ensconced in the driver's seat.

The Highland A. A. shut out the St. Andrews nine, 3 to 0 Sunday afternoon on the Newton Highlands playground. Carney pitched well for the locals holding the opponents to four hits.

Phil Perry won the first heat of the men's junior 100-yard championship swim at Salem last Saturday but failed to place in the final. Franz who placed second to the Newton boy who swims under the colors of the Brookline Swimming Club in the first heat breezed through a winner in the final in record time, 1 min. 5 3-5 sec.

Wednesday night at Victory Field the Saxony Mills nine won a well earned 5 to 3 victory over the Boston Royal Giants.

The West Newton A. C. defeated the Newton Catholic Club at the West Newton common on Monday evening, in a game of the two-league by the score 2-1. The pitching of Cooper who has always beaten the Catholic Club was invincible in pinches and the Club batters could not do anything with his pitching when they had men on the bases, he also won the game with a hit to right field in the fourth inning when C. Lomax laid down a perfect bunt and was sent down to second on a bunt by Hatton and scored on the hit of Coopers.

Doing the pitcher of the Catholic Club also pitched a good game but the colored boys drove him from the box about the sixth inning, then Ryan went to mound with two out and a man on first and second hitting the next batter that filled the bases, and Gray the following batter hit one to the tennis courts where Rooney the left fielder made a spectacular catch.

The Earnshaw Mills and the Newton Pals played a 5-5 tie game on Monday night at Victory Field in a two-league game. The rivalry between these two nines both of which use Victory Field as their home grounds is decidedly intense and the games between them draw many fans from all over the city. To date the two teams have met seven times each winning three and tying the odd. During the first half of the league the teams split even and ended up in a first place tie. The Earnshaw took two out of three.

The West Newton A. C. lost a hard fought game to the Sherborn Town Team on Wednesday night at Sherborn. Hughes shut out the colored boys until after two were out in the ninth, when Russell hit safely, stole second went to third on Lomax's safety and scored when Gray connected or the third straight hit. Russell pitched well for West Newton but the Sherborn nine's eight hits put more than enough runs across.

Buildings Commissioner Chadwick reports that there were 139 building permits issued in July, valued at $615,650, of which 34 permits valued at $334,200 were for single dwellings, and 15 for double dwellings valued at $184,000. This makes a total of 870 permits to date estimated at $4,957,384.

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held as usual Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club. Professor George H. Huntington of Robert College, Constantinople, Turkey, was the speaker and his talk on what is being done for the young people of all nationalities in that country proved to be very instructive as well as interesting.

He told how the antipathy of the former Turkish government was being overcome and of the lengths to which the present reign was going in co-operation with the efforts being made to improve and instruct the youth of Turkey.

Many of the ideas of this country are being adopted and this alone is held to be a great compliment to the western hemisphere. The Turkish fez is being discarded and criminal and civil codes of ethics and law are being introduced similar to those observed in more civilized countries.

A committee headed by Frank J. Perry, was named to make plans for an outing of the members to be held on August 11th at Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Y. M. C. A. Camp at East Brookfield.

The sympathy of the members was extended to president Duncan Wright in the recent death of his son who passed away suddenly last week Thursday while at camp as the result of a septic sore throat contracted the day before his death.

KIWANIS CLUB

Members of the Allston-Brighton Kiwanis Club dined with the members of the Newton Kiwanis at Auburdale on Tuesday. About sixty were present. Remarks were made by Vice-President Harry Moore of the Allston-Brighton Club and by Ernest Kerr, Secretary of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. Mr. Kerr also favored the gathering with some Scotch songs. Present as guests were Johnny Miles of Sidney Mines, Cape Breton, and his dad. Johnny is going to be one of the competitors at the modified Marathon to be held at the Scotch picnic tomorrow. Despite the fact that Tuesday was more than a hot day, the thermometer registering in the 90s, and the humidity being oppressive, the little athlete from Nova Scotia, and his dad set out for a rapid twelve mile hike after eating at the Auburdale Club. If self-sacrifice deserves reward, Johnny should win tomorrow.

Plans for the trip of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs to the Y. M. C. A. camp at East Brookfield, next Wednesday, were discussed. Two new members, Irving W. Ireland, Jr., and Herbert C. Veno, were introduced. The Newton Kiwanis Club is particularly fortunate in enjoying the assistance of the ladies of the Auburdale Club, who, under the direction of Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, volunteer their services to help prepare and serve the Kiwanis dinners.

POLITICAL NOTES

POLICE NEWS

Martin Engle of Dorchester, was in court Monday morning, charged with driving an automobile "wutiol." His case was continued until August 10.

According to the police, Martin Bozek of 204 Concord street, Lower Falls, is a nifty individual. Despite the fact that Martin lives just across the street from Serg. Joe Seaver, the latter suspected that his neighbor was selling "hard liquor." It is a difficult matter, ordinarily to obtain evidence against persons violating the prohibition laws. Certain people in this city and elsewhere, severely condemn the police for resorting to strategy to catch vendors of hooch. According to these critics the police should neither use spotters nor put across any tricks when they attempt to apprehend those individuals who are reaping large profits by dispensing alleged whiskey to indiscriminate drinkers. They assert that the police should try to catch the offenders by open and above-board methods. If the police followed their suggestions, they possibly might "get the goods" on those engaged in illicit liquor traffic about the time the next "ice-age" starts. But the "ice-age" started at Lower Falls Saturday evening.

At 7.40 that evening, an ice-wagon stopped in front of 204 Concord street. Two hard working ice-men manned the wagon. They were garbed as ice-men usually are while delivering congealed water, wearing blue shirts, khaki overalls and rubber caps. Wet brogans covered their pedal extremities. The driver of the truck was Patrolman Charles Feeley, his lumper was Patrolman Joe Carroll. "Wait any ice?" yelled Feeley. "Yes!" came the reply from Bozek's house. "A 10 cent piece." In the back of the ice-wagon the ice-men had one cake of ice, and from this Feeley more or less expertly chopped off a piece. Carroll carried the ice into the house and Feeley accompanied him to assist in placing the huge slab in the ice-chest. When the twain emerged a few minutes later they possessed a pint of alleged white key which they assert was purchased from Bozek.

Later in the night another wagon stopped in front of Martin's home. But, it was not an ice-wagon; it was the police-wagon. The raiding squad, under Serg. Seaver searched the house and found about three-quarters of a gallon of "hard liquor." Bozek was in court Monday morning, and his case was continued until August 10.

MOVE EXECUTIVE OFFICES TO NEWTON

The Central Railway Signal Company, of which concern Mr. Louis H. Ross of 414 Walnut street, is President, is occupying its new office building at 272 Centre street, Newton. This structure is in happy contrast to most business blocks erected in this city in recent years. Instead of being a cheap, one story affair, it is an attractive two story building, of fireproof construction. Large, well appointed stores occupy the first floor, and the entire second floor is taken up by the handsomely finished offices of the Central Railway Signal Company.

In the rear of the building is a large private garage. An open space, 15 feet in width, was left between the new building and the building of the Fox Furniture Company for a driveway to this garage. Although there is comparatively little pedestrian traffic along the sidewalk on the east side of Centre street, Mr. Ross, in order to eliminate any possibility of persons being hit by autos entering or leaving the garage went to the considerable expense of purchasing the land in the rear of the Fox Building and erecting an attractive concrete ramp, to afford an approach to the garage. The approach from Centre street will not be used.

Mr. Ross, who since boyhood, has been intensely interested in fire-fighting and fire prevention, has had installed at his own expense a new fire alarm box, (No. 152) outside the building. This contribution of his is much appreciated by Chief Randlett because of the added protection it provides for that section of the Newton Corner business district. Tappers in the building are connected with the fire alarm systems of Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Cambridge and Boston.

The Central Railway Signal Company is the largest concern of its kind in the country and has factories in several states, including one at Needham.

55th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gauthier of 20 Chandler place, Upper Falls, observed the 55th anniversary of their wedding Sunday evening. The affair was in the nature of a surprise to the aged couple, who were to start the first of this week for a month's visit to Canada. Among those present at the celebration were the eight children and twenty-five grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier. The former, who is 86 years of age, was for 35 years in the employ of the Boston & Albany railroad. His wife is 75 years old. Their children, James and Francis Gauthier of Waltham, Mrs. Charles Smith of Chelsea, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Row Wright, Mrs. Bernard Meehan, Misses Louise and Rosell Gauthier of Newton Upper Falls, presented their parents with a purse of gold.

ABOUT TOWN

Advertisement in "Town Crier" last week:—"FOR SALE: Newfoundland Dog—2 ft., 7 in. high, 3 ft., 8 in. long. Age 16 months, good watch dog. This ad did not give the width of the dog, but perhaps the above dimensions are enough to determine whether, or not, the canine will fit your doghouse.

The flies arrived in force this week. Whatever the reason is, there are more flies around than have been seen or felt in Newton for many moons. Even in well screened houses they have flittered. They seem to take particular delight in taking a stroll on persons on such "dog days" as we had this week. If you can't prevent these winged terrors from entering your homes, swat them, but don't swear at them.

Most habits are hard to break. A habit characteristic of Newton residents is that of going to Boston to buy almost everything they need in the line of personal and household wants. In the past this may have been, to a considerable degree, necessary, but today, even though persons living in this city can have their wants filled, in large part by local merchants, they still persist in doing their buying in Boston. Traffic has become so congested in the retail district of Boston, that it is a physical and nervous strain to shop in the big city.

As an illustration of the improved facilities which should lead persons to Trade in Newton, may be cited the Fox Furniture Company. This concern, which was started in this city 30 years ago, grew rapidly, and today it is the largest retail furniture establishment in Greater Boston, and one of the largest in New England. It has two stores in this city, at Newton Corner and Nantum. Its store at Newton occupies practically the entire building at the corner of Centre and Jefferson streets and contains a collection of household furniture equalled by few establishments of its kind in Boston. Newtonians, who believe that it is necessary to go into town to obtain furniture of quality in keeping with the beautiful homes characteristic of this city, should visit this local establishment. They will be agreeably surprised.

The division of Newton into two representative districts, and the increase of the number of representatives from this city to the Legislature is another indication that this burg is becoming more populous.

We were present the other day at a club meeting at which a speaker, prominent politically, told of the demands made by persons seeking "political drag." He related instances where individuals who had taken the examination for appointment to the postoffice service, and who had obtained low marks, sent friends to him who sought to have their proteges jumped over the heads of aspirants who had obtained better ratings. He also told of one modest person who announced that he intended to take an examination for a certain government position, and who requested that the examining board at Washington be notified, so that his marks would be given a high rating when his examination papers would arrive at Civil Service headquarters at the national capital. He said "that these seekers after special favors were quite indignant, when informed that their demands could not be granted."

The importunities of these seekers after political preferment, seemed quite ridiculous to most of those who heard them related, but to us, who had spent many years in the postal service, they caused no surprise. Many years ago, when we attended the schools in this city, the histories then in use, devoted considerable space to the great accomplishment of President Grover Cleveland.—Civil Service Reform. According to the school books, Mr. Cleveland had succeeded in freeing this country, to a large degree from the evil of political patronage, and replacing it with the "Merit System." And so, in our youthful credulity, not having relatives or friends to advise us, we swallowed—"hook, sinker and bait," all the glowing accounts of the "Merit System," and when we reached the required age, 18, took the examination for the postal service, passed, and received an appointment.

The majority of the men holding supervisory positions in the postal service are capable and honorable, and not of the type just referred to. Many of them, however, had to swallow their pride, and obtain a "pull," before they received the preferment to which they were justly entitled.

We had not been long in this branch of government activity, before our illusions regarding the "merit system" began to be dispelled. While it was true that one had to take an examination and obtain a required rating to be appointed to the service (unless one had an unusual "pull,") all too many advancements in the service were determined not by merit, not by seniority, but by political influence. This held true regardless of which political party was in power. It was true, and is true, that many of the employees advanced were qualified and deserving, but it was true, and is true that a large percentage of those promoted to better positions and larger salaries were men of inferior ability; but, who possessed of wheedling personalities, ingratiated themselves into the good graces of those politically powerful.

Men of character will not, ordinarily, resort to sycophantic methods to procure advancement. They will not fawn upon politicians, nor importune men of influence, in order that they may get ahead of others more capable and more entitled to promotion. Neither will they throw the "bunk" that they possess considerable influence in their respective communities, and therefore can influence many votes on election days. It is rather difficult to understand how men of prominence in public life can be hoodwinked into believing the blarney of nonentities seeking plum service. Individuals, who are anything but popular in their neighborhoods, who control no votes outside of their immediate families, have times innumerable secured appreciable assistance from astute politicians on the supposition that they are factors to be reckoned with.

The morale of the postal service, and other branches of government activity has not been bettered, neither has the efficiency in departments been improved by the practice of having "political pull" prevail where the "merit system" is supposed to be in force. Men in political life would gain rather than lose votes if "wire pulling" in civil service were abolished. For, under such a practice, for each successful "wire puller," there are a number of unsuccessful ones. And those disappointed, are, as a rule, not boosters for the dispensers of patronage.

HOLLIS TO RUN AGAIN

Arthur W. Hollis, representative to the Legislature from Newton, will be a candidate for another term. Mr. Hollis, who was formerly a member of the Newton aldermen, and president of that body, has served two years as one of the three representatives from Newton. Under the new re-districting plan, this city will be divided into two districts, with two representatives from each district.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

At the meeting of Newton Council, Tuesday evening, preliminary steps were taken to organize a branch of "Columbian Squires," the boys auxiliary which is in process of formation by the Knights of Columbus. A course of study to train workers for this participation of the K. of C. in the "Boy Movement" recently was completed by a large group at Notre Dame University.

The action of the Middlesex County commissioners in increasing the number of representatives in the Massachusetts House from this city from three to four is most gratifying, particularly as the Commission had but four new representatives to place in the entire County. The new districts practically divide the city into the north side and the south side, and with all three of our present representatives candidates for re-nomination will result in the fourth candidates coming from the north side of the city. In this connection it is regrettable that the fourth place cannot be given to former representative Bernard Early but the constitution requires the representatives to be residents of the districts they represent and Mr. Early unfortunately resides in the new fifth district and if a candidate, would have to oppose the two sitting members from that district.

President Coolidge is right when he says that many American tourists in France invite trouble by their bumptious conduct. But, according to reliable informants, many of the affronts offered American tourists recently by the French were unprovoked. American tourists spend many millions of dollars in France yearly. If the French, by their conduct, discourage Americans from visiting that country, they will be "killing the goose that lays the golden eggs."

Some of the cut-price stores are advertising "cut outs" for Ford's. The ads state that these cut-outs will give more power and pep to the automobiles. They do not state that using cut-outs is a violation of the law. Many drivers of automobiles, more particularly drivers of heavy trucks, are making a practice of using cut-outs, to the detriment of most persons' nerves. The law against doing this should be enforced, and the offenders arrested.

We are glad to note that Governor Fuller has had the good sense not to intervene in the sentence of the three criminals who took the life of an aged man in Waltham. There is altogether too much maudlin sentiment for the criminal and his family and altogether too little for the victim and his family. Law should be enforced if people are ever to learn to respect the law.

Coming thru New York state recently, we saw in a Rochester paper that the leader of the Republican county organization had "designated" a candidate for county treasurer and had also "designated" a candidate for county purchasing agent. We wonder what would happen if any one in this state should designate any particular person for the Republican nomination for any office to be filled at an election. New York evidently accepts the leadership of its political bosses as a routine matter and we understand that any one who presumes to be a candidate without boss approval is always among the "also rans."

We, in Massachusetts know hardly anything of the strength of political organizations in other states, particularly the way candidates are selected, not by the people, but by political committees and oft times by only the chairman of such committees. Holding office by virtue, therefore of political leaders, is it any wonder that the elected officials are subservient to such leaders and become mere automatons of political machines.

With all its manifest faults, we believe better results are secured by the political methods in vogue in Massachusetts.

Gather Every Fifteen Years to Honor Deity

On the great hill of Sravanbelgola, in Mysore state, southern India, stands a colossal image over 60 feet high of the god Komateswara. Every 15 years a great festival is held in honor of the deity, and hundreds of thousands of Jains come from all parts of India to participate in it.

One of the principal events of the festival is the ceremonial anointing of the image with ghee, milk, sandalwood oil and other liquids. A huge scaffolding is erected around the figure to render it accessible, and the right to anoint it put up at auction—a curious feature of a religious festival.

The figure of the god is a huge monolith—probably the largest in the world. It was hewn out of solid rock at least a thousand years ago and is in a wonderful state of preservation.—Wide World Magazine.

Victim Turned Lure

While in the Hawaiian Islands Mark Twain was assaulted unmercifully by mosquitoes. Attempting to fool them, he had a fine netting put all around his bed. In spite of this precaution, however, the pests managed to find their way inside and nearly tormented the life out of him. After careful investigation the victim decided that after they once got inside of the netting the mosquitoes were unable to find their way out. Consequently, every evening Mark would crawl inside the netting, wait patiently as a lure until he figured that all of the pests were inside, then lift the covering cautiously and sneak outside to spend the night on the floor. Moreover, he always declared that he was never afterwards bothered.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—Richard Dix as an American doughboy falls in love with his nurse in one of the French hospitals. She proves to be a princess of a mythical European kingdom. In searching for the princess after the war, Dix is taken for a long lost prince. From here on "SAY IT AGAIN" develops into a rip-roaring comedy with a host of breath taking and hilarious adventures.

—"THE SAVAGE" starring Ben Lyon and May McAvoy is a 100% comedy in which a little touch of "The Lost World" is introduced.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—Reginald Denny can make you laugh in more ways in one minute than there are ants in an ant hill. The picture gets funnier and funnier and just when you are wondering what can happen next, it happens. "ROLLING HOME" is one long laugh from beginning to end.

—"BORN TO THE WEST" founded on the story by Zane Grey, unfolds in a Nevada mining town. It is a Western action melodrama, just the type of story for Jack Holt.

LODGES

Clan MacGillivray Order of Scottish Clans, at their meeting Monday evening had a record attendance. Lanchlan, James and Alex MacIsaac, (brothers) were initiated into the order by Grand Chief Malcolm of Massachusetts, and his suite, composed of Grand Taniist, Wright, Grand Treasurer MacKay and Grand Henchman Robertson. It was a very enjoyable evening, "a real Scotch night". The Clansmen are looking forward to having many more such evenings in the future.

Past Chief Daughter, Mrs. Spiers of Worcester, who has been actively engaged in starting a new lodge of the Daughters of Scotia in Newton, was also present, with a good turn out of prospective members for that lodge.

ALL IN COURT AGAIN

Vincent Ali, who for many years has conducted a second-hand furniture business in Newton, was in court Monday morning for the third time in recent weeks on the charge of conducting a store for the sale of second-hand articles, without a license. Ali formerly had a store in the Summer block on Centre Street, and a workshop near the library. A few years ago he purchased the property at the corner of Centre and Carleton Streets and transferred his business to this location.

Last year the aldermen renewed his license with the provision that he display his wares on a large veranda outside the house which he uses for his business. As he did not conform with this requirement, the aldermen, this year, refused to grant him a license. Ali, however, continued to carry on his business and several weeks ago was brought into court and fined $5.00. This did not deter him, so a couple of weeks ago he was haled into court a second time and fined $20.00. As the second penalty failed to cause a cessation of the conduct of his business, he was summoned into court for a third time. Judge Bacon imposed another $20.00 fine, but suspended it.

—What might have been a very serious accident occurred at the corner of St. James and Hunnewell street on Wednesday, when three cars going north on St. James, and one going south, collided. Due to the moderate speed at which they were driven, the damage was confined to fenders, mud guards and paint. It was a very good demonstration of the need of street widening and of making St. James a one way street.

DISCUSS ZONING PROBLEMS

Aldermen at Special Meeting Hear Residents of Newton Centre on Proposed Changes

The matter of changing land on Halcyon, Oxford and Athelstane roads, Paul and Parker streets from general and private residence zones to single residence zones, was discussed at the special meeting of the aldermen Monday night. Chairman Madden of the Claims and Rules Committee stated that in this district are 47 one family houses and 7 two-family houses. In the past two years 22 new one family houses have been built, including all those on Halcyon road. The Paul property, which lies between the territory in question and Centre street, is restricted to one-family houses. Mr. Madden said his committee favored the change, taking the attitude that the home owners, who constitute the petitioners, are more entitled to protection than one real estate speculator who comes from outside this city, and who wants to erect a large number of two-family houses up against high class single family residences. Mr. Madden explained that the committee wished to be fair, so that it had recommended that part of the district near Clark street be allowed to remain open to two-family houses, as there are already two houses of this type on Clark street. This plan, he thought, street be allowed to remain open to would give a square deal to Mr. houses.

Alderman Collins said, "It is not right to take property rights away from a man even if he is a speculator. Did the committee consider that the balance of Athelstane road will be suitable for single residences, now that a number of two-family houses have been erected on this road?" Alderman Madden answered that the committee had asked property owners on Halcyon road if they thought that the balance of Athelstane road can be sold for single residences, and that affirmative answers had been given. Alderman Noone remarked that in carrying out the policy to protect home owners, we are denying the right to build to a class who are equally entitled to consideration. He told of visiting Athelstane road and being favorably impressed with the high type of two family houses which have been erected there. The lots on which they stand are large and the single houses on Halcyon road do not compare with them. He criticized persons living in two-family houses on Clark and Parker streets for petitioning against two family houses on Athelstane road, asserted that the zoning law might as well be abolished if we are going to zone the city like a patch work quilt, and that the petition for the change of zoning in this section is an attempt at class legislation.

Alderman O'Connell said, "Those who built the new houses on Halcyon road in the last two years knew they were in a district not restricted to one-family houses. Why do they come now and ask for this change?" Alderman Madden replied that until Hagen started some months ago to build the two-family houses, the petitioners had no idea that such a development would take place. He asked that because of the absence of some of the members, (Aldermen Pitts, Hinckley, Favinger and Norman Pratt) that the matter referred back to the committee so that the aldermen will have more opportunity to look over the ground.

Alderman Hodgdon said, "The chairman of the committee has stated the case very well, but the reason he wants it referred back is because he knows the action of the committee will not be sustained at this meeting." He remarked that Alderman Madden was unfair in calling Mr. Hagen a speculator. Hagen should be termed a developer. He said, "It is getting common in this city to term anyone who wants to develop property a speculator." Alderman Ball favored the granting of Alderman Madden's request, since it is custom-

ROTARY CLUB

Mid summer was evidently responsible for the small attendance at the regularly weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, held Monday noon, at the Woodland Golf Club.

The speaker was Mr. Matthew Ruane, the florist whose talk was both interesting and instructive. Mr. Ruane said that the bulbs of the popular paper narcissus came from southern France, until a short time ago, when their importation had been prohibited by Congress. These bulbs were grown in France, and carefully dried before being shipped to this country. With proper care about 85 per cent of the imported bulbs would flower. Since importation had ceased, the American grown bulb had increased several hundred per cent in price, with only a 40 per cent guarantee to flower. Bulbs for tulips, jonquills and daffodils came from Holland and were far superior to American grown bulbs. Mr. Ruane told how the florist forces flowers to bloom around Christmas, and how they delayed flowering of others until Mothers day or Decoration day, which otherwise would bloom in the early spring. Mr. Ruane told of the activities and growth of the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association by means of which it is possible for flowers to be delivered in almost every part of the United States and Canada, and in some parts of the world. Members of this association will telegraph orders for flowers to the nearest member of the Association, and payment for which is thru a clearing House established at Detroit, by the Association. This clearing house covers some 4500 florists in America, and did a business of over $4,000,000 last year.

MISS WILLIAMS DEAD

Miss Ellen A. Williams of Wellesley, formerly of Newton Lower Falls, where she was born May 27, 1847, and who had devoted her life to educational interests, died early Saturday morning in her eighty-sixth year, following a long illness. Graduated from Framingham Normal School in 1864, she served as teacher in that school for fifteen years as critic and principal of the practice school, and later, for about the same length of time, was associated with her sister, Mrs. N. C. Sweetser, in the Froebel School at West Newton.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. James E. Coons, D. D., superintendent of the sixty churches in the Lynn district of the New England Methodist Conference has accepted the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Newton Centre, made vacant by the call of Rev. Ralph E. Davis to the Broad Street Church of Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Coons who has been district superintendent at Lynn, since 1921, planned to resign next year, but with Bishop Anderson's permission will take over the Newton Centre pulpit in October.

Dr. Coons studied at Folks Institute, Herkimer, N. Y., Ohio Wesleyan, Boston University, and Harvard University and the Baker Memorial Church, Dorchester, and held several pastorates in Ohio, as well as East Saugus, Waltham

DEWOLFE BENEFIT A SUCCESS

Several thousand persons gathered at Victory Field, Nonantum, on Tuesday evening, at the benefit for Harold DeWolfe of that district, who was badly burned recently in a gasoline explosion in Boston harbor. The State Boxing Commission refused to sanction the boxing bouts which had been advertised, as this city never authorized boxing matches to be held here. In place of the boxing, wrestling matches were staged and a vaudeville program given. Mayor Childs delivered an address and Newton policemen volunteered their services in handling the crowd. A large sum of money was realized for Mr. DeWolfe.

BIDS ON TECHNICAL HIGH

Building Commissioner Chadwick on Wednesday, received the bids for the alteration work to be done on the Technical High School at Newtonville. The electrical work was given to Edwin C. Lewis, Inc., of Boston, at a bid of $987. The heating was awarded to McLean & Cousens Company, whose contract calls for $1553. Four bids were received on the general alteration work:—John McDonald Construction Company, $6333; C. S. Cunningham & Sons, $6425; John W. Duff, Inc., $6859; Frank E. Metcalf, $7105. The contract was awarded to the McDonald Company. This concern is rebuilding the Union Depot at Worcester, which was badly damaged by fire some months ago.

For the enjoyment of our readers and advertisers, we will give ten prizes each week for a number of weeks in an interesting contest which starts today. The rules are very simple, it takes but a few minutes, and anyone, not connected with the Graphic is eligible.

The Rules

On Page 3, you will find a coupon divided into twelve blank sections. Each section contains the first few words of a line taken from an advertisement in this week's issue and a place for the name and address of the advertiser from whose ad the uncompleted line is taken. Look through the ads, find the proper line, fill in the uncompleted portion and the name and address of the advertiser. When you have filled out all twelve of the blanks sign your name and address at the bottom.

Clip the coupon and bring or mail it to the Weekly Prize Contest Editor, Newton Graphic, Box 205, Newton. The first ten correct replies received at the Graphic office will be awarded prizes.

First prize this week—A $2.00 order good for any merchandise at the store of Moore & Moore, in any department.

Second to tenth prizes, inclusive—Passes for two persons to the Community Theatre—good for any night. As an example the first blank is filled out. The line is taken from the advertisement of the Newton Co-operative Bank on Page 1. Every service rendered by it is your clue. "Co-operative Bank is offered to Newton Residents" is the uncompleted portion which you are to fill in as well as the name and address of the advertiser. Fill out the other twelve blanks.

FINED FOR SELLING HOOGH

Martin Bozek of 294 Concord street, Lower Falls, was fined $50 on Tuesday by Judge Bacon for making an illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. He also received a suspended sentence of three months in the House of Correction. Bozek was arrested last week by Sergeant Joseph Seaver after he had made a sale of "hard stuff" to Patrolmen Charles Feeley and Joe Carroll who disguised themselves as ice-men.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY

Members of Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs Entertained at Y. M. C. A. Summer Camp

Delegations from the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Newton, journeyed Wednesday to Camp Frank A. Day, at East Brookfield. This camp was made possible through the generosity of the late Frank A. Day and is conducted by the Newton Y. M. C. A. for boys between the ages of 11 and 16. It is beautifully located on the thickly wooded shores of Lake Quamcumquasit and the camp grounds contain 10½ acres. The camp was started in 1916, and has grown in popularity until now there are more applicants for admission to it yearly than can be accommodated.

The camp includes a large assembly hall, which also serves as a dining room, a building containing the kitchen and supply room, and smaller structures used as a hospital, quarters for the director and assistants, and a carpenter shop. The counselors and boys sleep in fourteen large tents, each tent containing eight bunks. Because of the attendance at Camp Day, this year, the carpenter shop is being used as additional sleeping quarters. The boys who attend Camp Day have play in abundance, but are also made to assist to some degree in the care of the place. This affords excellent training and the youngsters seem to enjoy their duties. In addition to policing their tents, the boys, in turn, act as kitchen police and waiters. They also assist in caring for the camp grounds. The rate charged for board at the camp is $11 a week, and a boy must be a member of the Newton Y. M. C. A., to be admitted. Plenty of plain, substantial food is prepared by Chef James E. Timmins. "Timmy" for over 20 years has been cooking for the boys at Phillips Exeter Academy, so he possesses expert knowledge as to the kind of food which appeals to active, healthy youngsters.

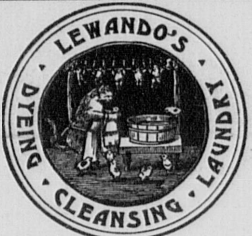

The camp is directed by Clyde G. Hess, Boy's Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., the camp secretary is Alan T. Shaw, and the camp doctor, Gustaf Lindskog. The senior division, al leader is R. Milton Edgar, and Dwight C. Shepler is junior divisional leader. The boys are divided into two divisions, according to their size. Each tent is in charge of a counselor.

The counselors are for the most part college men and include Richard Breed, Alfred Andrews, William Conroy, William Draper, Lawrence Daggett, Malcolm Gallagher, Ernest Hapgood, Nathan Hawkes, Egon Kattwinkel, John Nixon, Firth Pickels, Frank Spain and John Wakefield. Leroy Jackson is assistant chef and the camp helpers are Norman Storey, William Lockhart, George Van Buskirk, Harold Lodge, Paul Noble, William Houghton and Howard Johnson.

The delegations from the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs met at Weston Bridge at 12.30 and proceeded to Brookfield in autos. Arriving at the camp, Frank Wilcox, president of the Kiwanians observed some of the boys playing basketball. The lure was too strong for Frank, so he immediately organized two scrub teams. One team consisted of the visitors and was composed of Wilcox, Hawkins, Hernandez and Powers, assisted by Hodgkins of Camp Day. The opposing team was made up of four boys from the camp—Lane, Albree, Quigley and Souther, together with Newton's athletic attorney, Hugh Boyd. Hugh displayed as much activity as a basketball player as he does on the baseball field, and assisted by the accurate shooting of Lane, he succeeded in defeating the Kiwanians 18 to 16.

The visitors then proceeded to the lake, where some of them joined the camp members, who were enjoying their afternoon swim. Every boy who attends Camp Day becomes a proficient swimmer. Following the swim, a program of canoe races was conducted. The first event was a war-canoe race between the visitors and some of the campers. The Rotary-Kiwanians canoe stroked by Dr. Harold Giddings of Newton Centre, had as paddlers Jewett, Boyd, Wilcox, Perry, Hawkins, Hess, Bascom, Powers and Edgar, the latter acting as helmsman. In the boys' canoe were Jose, Albree, Hurd, Keeler, Floring, Tinker, Morris, Lane, Smith and Robb. This race was nip and tuck for the first quarter mile, both canoes reaching the turning

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

Stanley Lyon, former Newton high and Dartmouth college pitcher, has been twirling first class ball for the Waltham-Salem club in the Twilight league.

John Meredith, former Newton high all-scholastic third base-man has returned from training camp and has resumed his position with the Cradocks of Malden.

Larry Pratt is keeping himself pretty busy during the summer months at Duxbury. Last Friday, the annual water sports were held at the Duxbury Yacht club with the West Newton youth in charge. Sunday, the concluding tournaments in the South Shore tennis league were played, Duxbury ending up on top without the loss of a single point in its several matches. Pratt is the mainstay of the Duxbury team and was victorious in the hardest match of the tournaments over John Richardson, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5. The Harvard tennis player also was victorious in his first round singles match, and teamed with his partner, Dr. Benedict, they won the first round men's doubles.

Harriet Ellison again took first place in the race for 15-foot knockabouts at Duxbury last Saturday in the Ace. The Newton girl crossed the finish line several minutes ahead of her nearest rival.

The West Newton A. C. won a close game from the Newton Pals last Friday night at Victory Field, 3 to 2. The Pals went right after Russell in the first frame and put across two runs. Cooper relieved Russell with none out and the base filled. The next batter fanned. J. Lyman fled to Chet Lomax in left field and he nailed McArde at the plate with a perfect peg. The colored boys tied the count and in the fifth inning put across the winning tally when Gray singled, was sacrificed to second, stole third and rode home on Cooper's hit over second base.

Newton Upper Falls and the Highland A. A. played a tie game last Friday at Upper Falls. Score 3-3.

John (Giggles) McLaughlin of Newton Highlands pitched the Dorchester team to a 5 to 3 victory over the South Boston team in the Greater Boston twilight league last Friday night.

A composite team of players in the Newton Twilight League circuit nosed out the Wellesley Town Team 3 to 2 in a ten-inning game at Wellesley last Sunday. McLean of the Pals, Cronin, Leary and Connors of the Catholic Club, Sullivan, Larkin and Stumpf of the Auburndale team, Leary of the Providence team, Eastern League and Slavin of the Highlands, played for the local nine.

The Newton Pals got back at the West Newton A. C. Monday night at the West Newton Common and won the second game of the series between the two teams in the second half of the Two-league season, 6 to 4. The Pals got McLeary in the first frame for three runs. Brown kept the colored boys away from the plate until the third when they put over one rally. McLean's triple figured in scoring one run for the Pals in the first of the seventh. With two men on Cooper started a batting rally for West Newton in the last of the seventh, by nicking Brown for a safe hit which scored two runs. Another came across before the inning ended and knotted the count. In the growing darkness the Pals put over two runs in the eighth while the colored boys could not see Brown's pitches in their half. Manager Gray has protested the game on the grounds that the game should have been called at the end of the seventh.

Abbott Gotshall and F. Broughton went down to unexpected defeat in the second round of the men's doubles tennis tournament at the Portland Country Club on Tuesday. The Newton pair lost a hard-fought match to the Dana brothers.

Gotshall got into the finals of the men's singles by defeating Whitehouse, who has one leg on the singles cup.

for the Catholic Club and Connolly on the mound for the opponents. Connolly was given ragged support which proved his undoing. The Catholic Club scored five runs with the aid of but one safe blow.

Newton Upper Falls extended its string of victories to six straight Wednesday night, by defeating the West Newton A. C. 4-1 at the West Newton Common. Crowley was on the mound for the league leaders and although touched up freely kept the colored boys away from the plate. Cooper, who was in the box for the West Newton nine, was given ragged support which was responsible for his defeat.

The Newton archers are preparing to capture the major honors at the national archery meet which opens next Tuesday, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Miss Dorothy Smith of Newton Centre, and Dr. Paul Crouch of Allston, both members of the Newton archery club are both champion archers of the United States and are in good form for the coming tourneys.

Miss Smith will enter her sixth year as national champion if she scores at the national meet has been shooting with the bow and arrow since she was nine years old. While at Bradford Academy and Boston University, she improved her marksmanship. After winning several local events she first won the championship of the Eastern Archery Association of 1919, and that same year captured the national title. With the exception of the years 1922, and 1923, when the national tourneys were held in Coopers-town, New York, and Chicago, which Miss Smith was not able to spare the time to attend, she has held the national title since 1919. Among the prizes which Miss Smith has taken since winning the national championship when she was but sixteen years old have been the Robin Hood Trophy, offered by Douglas Fairbanks in connection with his film, "Robin Hood"; the Eastern and National Association "Clout" shoots, which consist of dropping an arrow on a target placed flat on the ground; the Bryant Cup, offered by Wallace Bryant, the artist; the Dallen medals, given by Cyrus Dallen, the sculptor, and the range medals.

Malcolm Hill advanced to the third round in the National Junior singles tennis championship at Chicago on Monday by defeating LeLong of Gary, Ind. in the first round and Tallas of Evanston, Ill. in the second. Henry L. Johnson, Jr. also made the third round by defeating Bayon of New Orleans in his second round match, having drawn a bye for the first round.

One of the biggest upsets occurred Tuesday in the junior championships when Henry J. Johnson, Jr., was defeated by Howard Langlie of Seattle, 1-6, 6-1, 2-6. Malcolm Hill advanced another peg when he eliminated Frank Shields of New York in a third round match, 6-1, 8-6.

Hill and Johnson won twelve straight games from a St. Louis pair in the first round of the junior doubles. The Waban pair were national champions in this class last year.

The Waban pair were eliminated Thursday, in the quarter-finals of the doubles matches by Sellers of San Francisco and Page of Chicago.

In the boys' singles of the National championships at Chicago David Scott won his first round match from Phillip Boddy of Chicago, 6-3, 6-0. Arthur Noble, who drew a bye in the first round won his second round match from William Vincent of Gary, Ind., 6-0, 6-1.

In the boys' singles Dave Scott was eliminated in the third round while Noble, his doubles partner, advanced to the fourth round by taking two of three sets from Foulke of Whitmarsh, Penn. The Newton Centre pair won their first round match in the boys' doubles by taking two sets from a Chicago team.

Hill was eliminated from the singles competition on Wednesday, by Berkeley Bell of Austin, Texas, in the next round. Noble was also defeated in the boy's tourney by Sidney Wood of Forest Hills, New York.

point together. The old timers rounded the stake first, but the superior skill and team work of the youngsters prevailed and they crossed the finish line one length in front of their stronger but less practiced opponents. The old timers had less finish than the boys, but they were much more finished when the race was finished.

The second event was a "man and boy race," each canoe being propelled by a youngster and grown-up. Seven teams entered. Little Mike Lane was so impressed with the strength and agility displayed by Hugh Boyd in the basket-ball game, that he selected the husky attorney as his partner. Their canoe shot into the lead at the start, propelled by vigorous strokes from Boyd's paddle. Hugh, however, displayed crude form as a canoeist and in endeavoring to steer the frail craft, capsized it 150 yards from the shore. As Mike Lane came to the surface after being unexpectedly hurled into the lake, he gave his partner a look of mingled surprise and reproach, and requested that Hugh give him warning before he again tipped over the boat. This race was won by Lowell and Hawkins; Robb and Jewett were second; Albee and Perry third. The canoe manned by Harry Bascom and Keeler also went upside down before this race was over.

The last race, an "in and out," displayed the ability of the boys to swim and handle canoes. Six times, in this race of 600 yards, the boys had to jump out of the canoes, recover their paddles, climb back into the frail craft, and continue on their way. Of the eight canoes starting, six finished. Quigley and Holmstrand were the winners, Farmer and Ruggles coming in second.

The Rotarian and Kiwanians sat down to supper with the campers and partook of a real meal. Favorable comment was made on the rapidity displayed by the boys serving as waiters. The fact that these waiters did not get their grub until they had first served their fellows, did not tend to cause them to move slowly. Following supper President Frank Wilcox of the Kiwanis Club told of some of his war experiences, and Dr. Cecil Clark entertained the boys with a humorous monologue. Bill Conroy read the Camp Log and musical selections were given by the camp orchestra composed of Edgar, Draper, Shepler and Daggett.

The visitors found all the boys enthusiastic in their praise of the camp, and one youngster, whose father came to take him on an auto trip through Maine, was reluctant to leave. Camp Frank A. Day is a magnificent memorial to the generosity and foresight of the man who made it possible. It is doing a wonderful amount of good for the boys of Newton, both from a physical and moral standpoint. Residents of Newton should become better acquainted with it.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending August 7:—Patients in hospital 119; patients paying as much as cost of care or more 54; patients paying less than cost of care 32; free patients, including babies 33; babies born, boys 13, girls 4; patients treated by out patient department 92; accident cases 10; social service calls at hospital 3; at homes 1; patients transferred by social service car 1.

Among the children born at the hospital last week were twin boys born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sennett. Miss Esther M. Newell, secretary to the superintendent, is spending her vacation at Brant Rock.

The nurses whose birthdays are in August enjoyed a birthday supper one day this week. Miss Evelyn L. Fahey and Miss Mary G. Gasper, students in the hospital training school, this week began their affiliation of four weeks at the Children's Hospital in Boston. During the present month extra painting is to be done in the contagious department.

The hospital has received its Hospital Standardization Certificate from the American College of Surgeons. The certificate, which is to be hung in a prominent place in the hospital, certifies that the hospital has met requirements and standards as laid down by the College and that it is an institution giving conscientious and efficient service to each patient.

ary to accede to the desires of committee chairmen when they ask that matters be referred back for further consideration.

Alderman Collins said that all the aldermen agreed that some part of the district should be restricted to one family residences and perhaps by referring the matter back to the committee a compromise can be reached. A vote was then taken and Alderman Madden's motion to have the matter referred back was carried.

It requires a three-quarter vote of the aldermen to change the Zoning Law, so that 16 will have to vote favorably.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL
1926

EDITORIALS

At the recent annual convention of the National Editorial Association held at Los Angeles, the editor was assigned the task of obtaining the opinions of the newspapermen present on the subject of national prohibition.

This was deemed desirable as there has been so much biased propaganda in the newspapers of the country during the past few months relative to the sentiment of the country on that question. The poll covered 170 newspapers from 31 different states and resulted in a vote of over 100 in favor of strict enforcement of the Volstead Act, 29 for modification, 6 for government control of liquor, and 3 for repeal. Most significant, however, was the report on the amount of drunkenness in the country since national prohibition has gone into effect, 110 stating that there was less drunkenness in their particular communities and only 15 saying there was more. It should be borne in mind that these figures were given by local editors, who naturally are closer in touch with community conditions than almost any other class of people. It leads emphatically to the conclusion that no matter what particular sections may flout the prohibition law, the country as a whole is DRY.

We have but little sympathy with the position of Alderman Collins, who thinks that real estate speculators should be "protected" in their development of land in this city.

These people come into Newton for the sole purpose of making money and care nothing about the future of the city, so long as they can make a profit on what they have to sell. Old residents of Newton, who have paid taxes here for many years are entitled to and should have the first consideration from our city government.

We understand that Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, chairman of the Republican city committee, Alderman William B. Baker of West Newton, and Mr. Hugh S. Boyd will be candidates for Representatives to the General Court in the new Fourth District, with Representative Hollis.

Middlesex County is to be congratulated on the fact that Mr. Robert T. Bushnell, the most efficient assistant district attorney, will receive the Republican nomination and subsequent election as district attorney to succeed Hon. Arthur K. Reading.

We are glad to note that the street railway company has added two more lines of busses to its system, and congratulate the residents of Walnut street on the fact that there will be less trolley cars on that thoroughfare.

Middlesex County is proud of the remarkable record for efficiency which Hon. Arthur K. Reading has made as district attorney and will give him loyal support for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

KIWANIS CLUB

At the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, the members were entertained by a demonstration of liquid air given by Joseph Roy of the engineering staff of the Cambridge Electric Light Company. Mr. Roy is a Newton boy and one of the most expert electricians in this country. He worked for many years in the experimental laboratories at Technology, and Lawrence Scientific School. His talk and experiments with the liquid air were of great interest to the Kiwanians.

FINED FOR DISTURBANCE

The court room at West Newton was crowded to capacity this morning by residents of West Newton who came to listen to the trial of the Lomax family, charged by Policeman John Green with causing a disturbance after the ball game on West Newton Common Wednesday night. Green testified that W. Earl Lomax started the rumpus when he approached after the game, while the crowd was being moved off the field, and made the accusation that the policeman had used unnecessary force upon Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, an aunt of young Lomax. He also testified that Eugene Lomax, father of Earl, interfered and used indecent language. Miss Ellene Lomax, another aunt of Earl, and Chester Lomax, his brother, were charged with following the officers to police headquarters and unnecessarily interfering.

Mrs. Davis testified that Green pushed her twice without any provocation, and accused the policeman of being unnecessarily rough and discourteous. Earl Lomax asserted that he had not caused any undue disturbance, merely protesting against the manner in which Green had treated Mrs. Davis, his aunt. Eugene Lomax indignantly denied the charge made by Green that he had used indecent language. He asserted that he has been a resident of Newton for 50 years and defies anyone to prove that he ever used indecent language. He referred to Mayor Childs and his employer as character witnesses. Chester Lomax and Ellene Lomax contradicted the testimony of the officers that they had been boisterous. One of the Lomax family charged that it appeared that Green was showing discrimination against colored people and not noticing more flagrant offenders. Fines of $20 on Earl Lomax and $10 each on the other four members of the family were imposed by Judge Bacon. All appealed.

POLICE NEWS

Francis G. Taylor of 40 Westbourne Road, Newton Centre, was fined $100, yesterday by Judge Bacon for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $15 for drunkenness. He appealed from both fines.

The train which left Auburndale at 4:59, Wednesday afternoon, for Boston, was stoned as it passed the bridge at Auburn Street. Windows were broken in one of the cars and a woman passenger was cut by the broken glass. The police are endeavoring to discover who perpetrated this outrage.

Wednesday night, some excitable persons thought they had discovered a murder. The police were informed that shots had been heard and a man seen carrying a body down into the city dump in the swamp off West Pine Street, Auburndale. Serg. Leehan and Motorcycle Officer Goddard were sent to investigate and found that the "shots" came from a defective automobile motor. The "corpse" taken into the dump was an old mattress.

Someone broke into the house of Dr. Dale E. Brown at 40 Nonantum Street, Newton, Wednesday night, during the absence of the family, and stole a suit of clothes. Entrance was made through a window on the first floor.

Early Thursday morning, Patrolman Frank Feeley, while on duty at Nonantum Square, noticed an auto being driven in a zig-zag manner. He stopped the car and placed the driver, Harry Flynn of 230 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, under arrest on the charge of driving "wutiol." As the policeman was driving the auto to police headquarters, one of the two women passengers in the car, according to Feeley, threw a bottle onto the street, smashing it. The woman, Catherine Murphy of Haviland Street, Boston, was placed under arrest for breaking glass on a highway. The second woman was arrested charged with drunkenness. In court yesterday, Judge Bacon continued all the cases of the trio until August 19.

Thomas Freeman of 678 Dudley st., Roxbury, was arrested Friday night, at 11:45, by Patrolman W. Maloney, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case will be tried August 14th.

Many complaints have been received in recent weeks from persons whose gardens have been raided. The complainants could not be blamed for being wrathful. After working many weary hours, raising small crops of vegetables, it certainly was exasperating for the "amateur farmers" to go out into their yards some morning and discover their gardens stripped of all their ripe, or nearly ripe products. Residents of Newtonville had the added aggravation of being offered for sale, garden truck which they were sure was stolen from their plots on preceding nights.

Just after midnight, at 12:35, Saturday morning, motorcycle officer Larry O'Donnell was proceeding along Washington St., in citizen's clothes, when he saw two boys climbing over the fence at the Soule estate, corner of Walnut Park and Washington street. He ordered the boys out. They not only ignored his command, but one of them gave him an insulting answer. O'Donnell jumped over the fence after the trespassers and captured one of them, Albert Brasco, 14, on Lincoln road. He also found a quantity of carrots just picked.

POLITICAL NOTES

Plans are being made by the Republican State Committee for a big political rally to be held at Norumbega Park, on September 1st. Senator Butler, Governor Fuller and Lieut. Governor Allen will be among the speakers.

Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell will be unopposed for the Republican nomination for District Attorney of Middlesex county as successor to Hon. Arthur K. Reading.

Alderman William B. Baker has announced his candidacy for one of the Republican nominations for representatives in the new 4th district.

District Attorney Arthur K. Reading of Middlesex County has filed 8,807 signatures with the Secretary of State, qualifying him in ten counties for the Republican nomination for Attorney General. In all 42,000 signatures were secured from every city and all of the larger towns of the state wholly by volunteer workers. Only a fifth of these were filed at the State House.

YE EDITOR

Ye editor may have his woes.
Walk in and swat him on the nose
And pulverize his homely mug
And throw him in the village jug
And put him through the third degree
And lynch him on a dogwood tree
To show him you appreciate
His work for city, home, and state.

Ah, he may walk a stony path.
Step in and beat him with a lath
In which are sundry sharpened nails.
Chastise him till he groans and wails.
Whet up your tomahawk and knife
And take his scalp and jail his wife.
Saw off his good right leg and arm
And show him that his efforts charm.

Perchance he may be feeling blue.
Waltz in and talk an hour or two
And call him hypocrite and fool
And tell him he's the willing tool
Of grafters, thieves and profiteers.
And has no brains except the shears.
Remind him he's the scum of earth,
Thus showing you revere his worth.

Ye editor gets tired and sore.
Knock often at his office door;
And knock him while you make your rounds
And cheer him up with horrid sounds.
Go in and biff him with your fist
And swipe from him his stranger twist
And show him that of all the crowd
He's one of whom the town is proud.

ABOUT TOWN

"Joe" Antonellis recently returned from a tour of Newfoundland. He brought back with him two Newfoundland dogs. The little fellows are handsome specimens of the breed, once popular here, but rarely seen for the past 30 years. The only owner of Newfoundland dogs in this section for many years has been Dr. M. J. Panton of Wellesley. Old timers at Newton Corner, will remember the famous Newfoundland, "Punch," which for a long time was the mascot of Engine 1. "Punch" was the property of Frank Harrington, who drove the big Hunneman steamer long in use at Newton. He answered every alarm, chasing after the fire engine. He was finally killed while running to a fire with the apparatus.

Newton and other places about Boston, were visited by some of the delegation of 250 boosters from the Shenandoah Valley last Saturday. This delegation has been making a tour of Canada and the Eastern states for the purpose of advertising the charms of the beautiful "Valley of Virginia." It surely is one of the beauty spots of America and well worth a visit. Accompanying the party was the band of the high school at Winchester, Virginia, under the direction of Prof. W. B. McIlwhee. This band gave a concert at the Parkman Bandstand on Boston Common, Sunday morning.

Prof. McIlwhee went to Winchester, a couple of years ago from his home town, Keyser, West Virginia. In that place he organized a band which it was our privilege to hear a number of times. When the Keyserites first told us about their band, we smiled to ourselves, as we supposed it to be like the ordinary small town band—mostly cornet, and not much of that. But McIlwhee's Band was a revelation. This organization under the skillful leadership of Mac practiced faithfully two evenings every week and put over performances that ranked with those of the best bands in this state, including the Salem Cadet and Waltham Watch Company bands, when those two musical combinations were at their best. If McIlwhee remains at Winchester, that little city, made famous by Sheridan's ride, will have a band it can be proud of.

Alderman Walter Hodgdon of Upper Falls persistently advocates publicity in the transaction of city affairs. Walter is very much "agin" conducting aldermanic deliberations in the privacy of committee rooms. He wants all matters thrashed out in open meeting. The Ward 5 alderman is opposed to what that well known Ward 7 Democrat, "T. D." Murphy, terms "cosy-wosy" stuff.

Attorney Sarsfield Cunniff has returned from an auto trip to Canada, including a journey up the Saguenay River. Although a very temperate

The wall of the well will be of 16-inch reinforced concrete. Mr. Zappe plans to first construct the lowest section of the wall. This section will have its lower edge bevelled and covered with sheet steel. As the gravel is sucked out of the well, this section will sink into the ground. When it drops sufficiently low, another section will be constructed on top of it. Each successive section, as built, will be bonded onto the section next lower by the steel reinforcing rods.

Most of the contractors competing against Zappe for this job, are skeptical about his ability to make a success of these new methods. The aldermen had enough confidence in him to virtually award him the contract for appropriating only $15,000, for this work. His bid was the only one low enough to be covered by this appropriation.

The prone method of resuscitation was used until the boy showed some signs of reviving, when Owens rushed him to the hospital at Framingham where the little fellow was revived.

NEWTON'S WATER SUPPLY

Work on the blowing off of the water mains, to eliminate the nuisance of "nut brown" (or some kind of brown) water, will start the last week of this month, if present plans don't go askew. The contractor who was awarded the job of building the large additional well at the water reservation at Needham, has commenced work. This man's bid was away under the bids of his competitors, being less than one-third of some of the other bids.

The water situation in, and around Boston, and other parts of this state is much more serious than the ordinary person imagines. As the cities and towns have increased in size, the water supply seems to have decreased.

The water basin at Clinton, which supplies the Metropolitan District is very low. Residents of the cities and towns dependent on this supply should auto to Clinton to see for themselves just how little water is in the reservoir. A much greater quantity of water is used per capita than a generation ago.

Modern plumbing, greatly increased the frequency of bathing. Some persons are brunt enough to assert that modern dress necessitates more frequent use of soap and water. Prohibition undoubtedly causes more consumption of water from public supplies. The breweries had their own artesian wells.

Whatever the reasons are, the fact is that the water supplies of Boston and many other places is entirely inadequate to cope with the consumption of this most necessary public need. No time can be lost in extending the system to the proposed additional sources up along the Ware River.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

If you have not already chosen your school and selected your courses of study for the coming year, or if you are still undecided just what occupation makes the strongest appeal, you will make no mistake in getting the opinions of those who have made a study of the advantages and disadvantages of various professions and trades and of the types of people best adapted to each.

Or possibly you have found that the thing which you had planned to do is not, after all, the occupation in which you believe you will be most happy; or else circumstances make a change of plan desirable or necessary.

In such of the following books as were published previous to or during the war period, the subject matter relating to wage conditions will not apply in every case at this time; although the rest of the material given in these volumes is quite as valuable as that in books of a later date.

So many lines of work formerly confined to men are now open to women that many of the books written especially for boys and young men will appeal equally as much to their sisters. Still there are certain trades and professions which are generally classed as being distinctively men's work, and certain others as pre-eminently women's field of endeavor, hence the classification follows:

Vocational books of interest to both men and women:

WHITTREDGE PORTABLE BUILDINGS CO. OPENS WALTHAM EXHIBIT

Another Village of Whittredge Garages opened during the past week at 287-289 Newton street, near the corner of High street, off Main street, Waltham. The new exhibit is in charge of Mr. C. W. Arnold of 45 Lowell street Waltham, who has represented the Whittredge Portable Buildings Co. of West Lynn in Waltham, Watertown and vicinity for several years. Mr. Arnold is very enthusiastic about the location of his exhibit as it is on the main artery of automobile traffic, being the short route between Boston, the Newtons, Brookline, Watertown, Waltham, Waverley and other cities.

There is plenty of parking space at each of the exhibits where the buildings may be seen and examined any day of the week.

It is so easy to see what you are to get as well as easy to buy while the low prices and convenient terms make it easy to pay and to own a Whittredge Garage in your own yard.

DEATH OF MR. WARREN

Prescott Warren, for thirty years a resident of Newton, died suddenly Wednesday morning at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. He was in his fifty-third year. Mr. Warren prepared for college at Phillips Andover, and entering Harvard as a member of the class of 1896. He was a member of the Harvard Club, always interested in dramatic work, and was a member of several dramatic clubs. He had been chairman of the play-going committee of the Drama League.

Mr. Warren, who was related to both the Prescotts and Warrens of earlier days, was born in Cambridge, the son of George Kendall Warren and Mary (Caldwell) Warren.

In his early life he was for several years in the advertising business; then for eighteen years he was identified with the automobile industry and was an officer of the Stanley Motor Carriage Company, having been vice president and president. During the last two years he has been in the real estate business.

He is survived by his widow, Emily Stanley Warren, and four children, three daughters, Miss Marjorie Warren, Miss Frances Warren and Miss Emily Warren; and a son, Stanley Warren. The family home was at 35 Hyde avenue, Newton.

ELKS HOLD OUTING

The annual outing of Newton Lodge of Elks was held Sunday at Danforth Farms Country Club, Saxtonville. About 250 members and friends departed in autos from the Elks' Home in Newton at 12.30. Upon arriving at Saxtonville, an old fashioned clam bake was enjoyed. A ball game then followed between teams composed of married and single men. The battery for the married men consisted of "Jimmie" Burns, pitcher, and Wilfred Chagnon, catcher. This was a new role for "Jimmie." Thirty-five years ago he was the star backstop for the Elliotts, a well-known juvenile team of this city. Wilfred Chagnon, several times during the early part of the game started to play with the single men, which was quite natural, as he has been married but a few weeks. Jim Mullen was on the mound for the bachelors, and Joe Ryan caught for the freemen. The married men won by a score of 11 to 8.

A program of athletic sports was enjoyed and motion pictures of the outing were taken. These pictures will be shown at a meeting of the Elks next month.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"The Wilderness Woman" tells the story of an Alaskan miner and his daughter, who, having suddenly struck it tremendously rich in the far north, set out for New York.

Very few motion pictures have stirred one's emotions as "Silence" will stir them. H. B. Warner, Raymond Hatton and Vera Reynolds portray the most successful characters of their careers.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—House Peters, the virile, rugged he-man of the screen in a marvelous melodrama of the North woods where it's man against man and may the fittest survive—"Combat," a surging melodrama rising to a terrific climax with the biggest forest fire scene ever filmed.

"Pals First," a most unusual comedy which chronicles the strange situation that three tramps find themselves emeshed in when they are mistaken for the owner and his guests of a fine old southern mansion.

WEST NEWTON BOYS HAVE OUTING

The Knights of the Holy Cross, the boys' organization connected with St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, held its annual outing Monday at Narragansett, Rhode Island.

Attired in their white uniforms, the boys, in charge of Rev. William T. O'Brien, journeyed to the rectory at Waveland where a concert was given by the life and drum corps. Cornet solos were played by Joseph Cosgrove and John Hennessy.

A program of sports was then enjoyed on the beach, following which the boys got a great thrill bathing in the heavy surf which prevailed on that day.

The Knights next went to one of the hotels for dinner and did full justice to a bountiful meal. Later in the afternoon they gave a second concert at Surfside. Amos Oldfield, drill-master of the Knights, assisted Rev. O'Brien in directing the boys.

EDWARD F. MONAGHAN

Edward F. Monaghan, one of West Newton's best known residents, died Tuesday at his late home, 1516 Washington street, after a long illness. He was born in West Newton 44 years ago, the son of the late John V. and Mary Monaghan.

He was associated with his father in the livery stable business, and later started a taxi service. For the past few years he conducted a gasoline station and automobile supply store at the corner of Auburn and Washington streets.

He was for many years the West Newton correspondent of the Graphic.

He is survived by three brothers and a sister. His funeral service was held this morning at St. Bernard's Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Delegations were present from Newton Lodge, B. P. O. E., and Triton Lodge, Royal Arcanum.

LIGHTNING HITS BUILDING

The severe lightning storm which started late Saturday night, and continued for a couple of hours, caused a fire in the old wooden building numbered 1381 to 1387 Washington street, West Newton. The bolt which struck the structure ripped off some boards on the roof and started a blaze. Occupants of tenements on the top floor rushed to the street and Box 312 was sounded. It was necessary to chop a hole in the roof and some damage was caused by water.

The buyer will occupy for a home.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Newton League of Women Voters is this summer considering the desirable attitude of the League toward prohibition. By a rule of the League no action may be taken at State or National Conventions upon which local Leagues have not had the opportunity of forming and expressing an opinion. When therefore at the last State convention, in May, a resolution was introduced looking toward active legislative support of prohibition it was at once referred to the local Leagues for consideration and will undoubtedly be brought up for action at the State convention in October.

The question is not whether the Leagues approve prohibition but whether it is desirable now to include it among the limited number of measures to be actively supported.

NEWTON MEN IN LITIGATION

Joseph P. Vass of Ward street, Newton Centre, Harry J. Blake of Brookline, Jeremiah Kelligrew of Boston, have brought suits against Thomas Crimmins of West Newton, Charles W. Ryder of Newtonville and Edward R. Pierce of Weston.

The suits total $230,000 and are for alleged breach of agreement; Vass sues for $90,000; Blake for $85,000 and Kelligrew for $55,000. The claimants are former employees of Crimmins, Pierce & Co., and claim that when they left the employ of that concern in 1921, they were supposed to receive the book-value of the stock they held according to an agreement made in 1915. They assert the defendants have not lived up to this agreement.

MRS. CATHERINE COX

OVERHEAD

Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson Gives Lucid Explanation of That Subject at Rotary Club

Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson of Newton should include, and also the best method of obtaining a just and correct percentage relative to the amount of business done. To go into this in detail, would consume too much time, that there are charts already worked out by our National Trade Extension Bureau, which are very comprehensive, and may be had for the asking, and I commend them to all who are in need of information in this direction.

OVERHEAD

Interpretation and Application

Overhead is a coined phrase, practically coming into life within the confines of a decade and half, as an object of worth while recognition.

During its in fancy, it was generally considered a most unwelcome child, and very few were willing to adopt it, and assume the responsibility of it. But as time went on, the child itself showed signs of future promise, at which time, some considerate people gave it attention, and through this recognition and encouragement, this weakling child has developed into a very wholesome and worthy youth, and bids fair at this time, under proper guidance to develop into a most powerful factor toward conducting an up to date principle (which if justly and wisely applied), will assure one with the confidence and feeling that they are maintaining what is considered by all successful business men, an absolute necessity to warrant success in the end.

What is overhead?

It is the sum total of all expense, in establishing and maintaining a sound and successful business, specified as follows: Interest on total investment, including building (if owned), otherwise, rent, interest on stock, tools, trucks, office equipment, and all working capital, including all book accounts over thirty days old, also eat, light and power, stationary, postage, freight and express, fire and labor liability insurance, repairs and depreciation of building, repairs and tools of all kinds, allowances, advertising, trade journals, association dues, and all unproductive labor, which includes office force, foreman, etc.

There is more or less difference in opinion as to just what overhead

Experience is the best and most practical teacher in the course of time, and therefore I am convinced that the overhead of last year cannot be safely used alone as a correct basis for next year, on account of the possible variations of the volume and character of the business done, therefore it seems to me, that the only fair and safe method to adopt for the future year, is to obtain an average percentage extending over a period of not less than five years past.

There are three types of people, even at the present time, who give overhead little or no consideration, namely: The ignorant business man, the man who does business from his home, and by reason of it, imagines that he has little or no overhead, who is only fooling himself, for in the true sense, his is often times larger in comparison to the man who is conducting a first-class business on a principal street in the town. And lastly, the intelligent, able business man who thoroughly understands all about overhead, and who is doing a large volume of business, but for fear that some competitor will under bid him, absolutely ignores overhead, and trusts in extras and the grace of God for a profit. Such a man is the greatest transgressor of all, and a menace to the business, for he is not only false and untrue to himself, but he is lowering the standard of the business in evading the true intent and meaning of the contract, by cutting corners as far as possible, and he is fostering and practicing a principle whereby no one will be able to make a living profit, for which all should strive, and to which most certainly, every one is justly entitled.

The plumber of the past was known as, and prided himself on being, an

DROWNED IN RIVER

Francis J. Higgins, 26, of 10 Adams Terrace, Newton, was killed at 4:15, Saturday morning, when the auto he was driving along Nonantum Road, plunged down the embankment and became submerged in the Charles River. With Higgins when the accident happened was Hugh McGlynn of 117 West Street, Newton.

McGlynn managed to free himself from the automobile and ran up Charlesbank Road to Newton Corner. He went to the office of the Garden City Taxi Company shouting for assistance. Arthur Beck, one of the taxi chauffeurs, was on duty. He jumped into a taxi with McGlynn, picked up Patrolman John Foley and hastened to the river. Just as the taxi arrived there, Officer Murphy of the Metropolitan Police Department came along. The two policemen plunged into the stream and attempted to recover the body, but the position of the car made it difficult. Beck returned to the taxi office and telephoned to the Newton and Watertown police. Patrolmen Clinton, McLaughlin and Liston hurried from Watertown, together with Dr. Kelly. The Newton police ambulance came with a pulmotor. About twenty minutes after the auto entered the river, the police recovered Higgins' body. His neck had been severely gashed and his chest lacerated, apparently from the broken windshield.

Where the automobile left the road, there is a slight dip—O-B-L. There is a slight bend. According to McGlynn a heavy fog hung over the river. There is no guard rail between the street and the embankment. As soon as daylight came, the automobile was pulled from the river. Believing that there might have been other occupants in the car, the police dragged the stream for several hours. Later in the morning, McGlynn returned to the scene and informed Serg. O'Connor of the Metropolitan Police that Higgins and he were returning from Cambridge, where they had left their friends, when the fatal accident occurred.

Higgins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Higgins and a native of this city. His funeral service was held Tuesday morning, at the Church of Our Lady, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

TAX RATE $28.00

Announcement was made on Saturday by the Assessors that the tax rate for the year would be $28 per $1000, an increase of 60 cents over the $27.40 rate of 1925 and 1924.

A much larger rate had been anticipated as the increase in the tax levy was nearly a half million dollars more than last year. An unprecedented increase of $1,437,000 in valuations enabled the Assessors to keep the rate down.

This increase in valuations is from three causes, the largest one being new building amounting to some $8,000,000, about $4,000,000 is on land and about $2,000,000 to increase in personal property.

The valuation of the city is $132,230,700 of which $114,047,600 is real estate and $18,183,100 is on personal property.

Ward 6 with a valuation of $29,206,250 has the highest valuation in the city, with ward 5, with $21,442,600 in second place. Other wards are as follows, ward two, $17,526,250, ward three, $15,486,350, ward seven, $13,360,500, ward four, $9,206,200, ward one, $7,819,450.

CHANGE IN ROUTING

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company has made two changes in routes between Newton and Waltham. The route of the trolley line between Newton Corner and Waverley by way of West Newton has been changed so that this line now runs to upper Main street, Waltham. The Waverley and Newton Corner line will be covered by buses, which will not, however, run through West Newton, but will run from Newton Corner to Newtonville and thence over Crafts and High streets to Waltham and Waverley. By these changes West Newton does not lose any service it has had between Newton Corner and West Newton, but West Newton residents will have to transfer to buses at Waltham when going to Waverley. The change is of greater benefit to Waltham than to Newton, but it provides extra buses in Newton at rush hours. West Newton, according to the company officials, will not have buses for some years. The company informed the Newton Board of Aldermen that the next shipment of buses would be placed on the Watertown to Needham line, but evidently unable to secure the necessary franchises the company motorized the Waverley route. Neither Watertown nor Needham has yet granted franchises to the company.

HAS KEPT HIS WORD

When Dist. Atty. Reading was a candidate four years ago for the office he now holds he told the people that if he were elected he would give them a clean, honest and efficient administration. Every man and woman in Middlesex County knows that he has kept this pledge. Every gunman and granger, every thug and crook, every member of the underworld today realizes that in the person of Dist. Atty. Reading they have to contend with a man of dynamic action who is alert, courageous and incorruptible, and so it is that there is no place anywhere which is cleaner or more free from organized outlawry today than Middlesex County. This is due absolutely people's lawyer. What he has given to the swift, aggressive action of this to Middlesex as district attorney, he will give to Massachusetts as attorney general.

WILL REMEDY WATER SITUATION

Starting Monday Night the Water Mains Throughout the City Will Be Scraped Out

Monday night at 10 o'clock the much discussed and eagerly awaited task of removing the sediment, which for many years has been accumulating in the water mains of Newton, will commence. Or rather, the actual cleaning process will begin. Work has already been started: at the corner of Ward and Centre streets are two excavations made to install openings into the 20 inch main running from the pumping station at Upper Falls to the reservoir at Waban Hill. Another excavation has been made just below the reservoir near Ward street and at this place on Monday night the scraping machines will be put into the main by employees of the National Water Main Cleaning Company, under the direction of Supt. Connors.

These machines, or contrivances, contrary to some published reports, do not revolve. They are cage like affairs several inches larger in diameter than the water main and constructed of flexible steel. Two of these machines will be used, each composed of three sections. They are somewhat oval in shape and contain series of fingers or scrapers. The scrapers in the first machine are of a saw-tooth effect, those in the second machine are more square. They are arranged so that the fingers in each section of either machine are overlapped by those in the following sections. In the centre of each machine is an 8 inch piston; this piston takes the pressure from the water in the main and thus propels the devices.

Monday night the gate in the main near the reservoir will be closed the pipe opened and the scraping machines put into the pipe. The branch main leading to Chestnut Hill will also be closed. This district will be connected with the Brookline water system. The main will be sealed after the machine is installed and then the gate will be opened until but 10 or 15 pounds pressure results. This low pressure is sufficient to propel the scrapers. According to the National Water Main Cleaning Company, the machines will move through the main nearly as fast as a man can walk and it is expected that it will take about 30 minutes for them to travel from the reservoir to the corner of Ward and Centre streets, where the main will have been opened. At this point a pipe will lead to the surface and through it the loosened sediment will be forced out onto the street. Carts from the water department will be present to carry away any silt which may gather. Water Commissioner Whitney is somewhat skeptical as to the scrapers making such rapid progress as is expected, but he is hopeful that the promised schedule may be maintained. The company which has the contract to clean the main is so sanguine that it entertains hopes that the entire main, from the reservoir to the pumping station, a distance of about four miles, may be travelled by the scraping devices on Monday night. The principle obstacle to the uninterrupted progress of the cleaning machines will be the bends at the bridge on Centre street where the main crosses the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad. But even here, it is more than probable that the machines will not be stopped as the bends are  $\frac{1}{4}$  or less, and the sections of the cleaning devices are supposed to negotiate any bend less than  $\frac{1}{4}$ .

There has been much apprehension that the machines will become stuck in the main and that the flow of water will be stopped. This fear is groundless, according to the water experts. The intervening spaces between the fingers or blades on the scrapers permit the free flow of water through the main, and the fingers would break before they would become stuck. The progress of the machines can be traced from the surface above the

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

Bill Blaney, paired with Donald Vinton, won the low gross and net in the New England amateur-professional golf tournament at the Manchester, New Hampshire, Country Club, Monday. They took the low gross with 139, and with a three stroke handicap their net was 136. According to the rules they were allowed only the gross prize, the net prize going to the next pair.

Larry O. Pratt was put out in his first round match, in the annual invitation tennis tournament of the Meadow Club at Southampton, New York, on Monday, by Percy L. Kynaston of Rockville Center, New York, the New York state intercollegiate champion. The Empire state player defeated the West Newton youth, 6-1, 6-1.

Eddie Kevorkian, former Newton high school football guard, who was a member of the freshman grid team at Brown, last fall, is expected to be first-class varsity material this coming season.

Sunday afternoon, at the Upper Falls playground, the Upper Falls team was defeated 3-1, by the Needham Town team. Each team scored a run in the first frame, while Needham clinched the game by scoring twice in the fourth inning. McDonald pitched for the local outfit and was found for eight hits.

At the Lower Falls playground on Sunday, the Lower Falls team nosed out the Watertown Hoboes, 2-1, in an exciting game.

Staging a ninth-inning rally, netting three runs, enabled the Pals to defeat the Wellesley Town team, 3-2, at Hunnewell Field, Wellesley, last Sunday. It was the Pals 31st victory of the season. Both teams played errorless ball and hits were scarce. The Pals found Gedlin, Wellesley twirler for eight hits, while John Lyman held the home team to six. Wellesley scored one in the fourth and another in the eighth and apparently had the game sewed up and the Pals shut out. The local nine, however, refused to be subdued and broke loose in the first of the ninth, for enough tallies to win.

Clark Hodder and Ted Leardard of the Commonwealth Country Club were forced to accept defeat last Saturday, at the hands of Herbert Jaques of the Country Club, Brookline, and Paul Moore of the Essex Country Club in the final match of an invitation four-ball tournament at the Essex Country Club at Manchester, Mass., last Saturday. The local pair staved off defeat until the eighteenth hole which was won by their opponents.

The Ellisons, Harriet and William, finished one, two, in the final race of the mid-summer series at the Duxbury Yacht Club on Sunday. In the 15-foot class, Miss Ellison, after being third on the first round, sailed into first on the second beat and won both race and series. Her brother, William, placed second in the race, which gave him a third for the series.

The graduation from high school last June, of Holbrook, Gilligan, Whittemore, and Shaw dissolved a quartet which has represented Newton high on the diamond for four years. Whittemore at first base, Shaw at second, Gilligan at shortstop, and Holbrook at third, used to be the regular infield of the orange and black. The past season, however, Gilligan was transformed into a catcher because of the lack of a backstop who could capably fill the shoes left vacant by Moran. Holbrook and Whittemore enter Harvard this fall. Shaw is going to Bowdoin, and Gilligan will join his brother at Exeter, for a year or two before entering college.

The Newton Catholic Club shut out the Earnshaw Mills 4 to 0, on Wednesday night, at the West Newton Common. Connors was on the mound for the home team and pitched shut-out.

ball although in several innings with men in position to score the Earnshaw players could not deliver the necessary punch. Hawkes pitched a good game for the first half-champions, but presented the Catholic Club with one of its runs by delivering a wild pitch which scored Connors from third, which he reached after being safe at first on an error.

The Newton midgets were defeated 11 to 1, Wednesday, by West Watertown of Watertown. The home team scored all their runs in the first three frames. Amenda went on the mound for the midgets and held them scoreless. Three errors behind Cox aided in the scoring.

The West Newton A. C. journeyed to Wellesley, Wednesday night, and took over the Wellesley Town Team, 4 to 2, in a twilight game. Wheeler on the mound for the colored boys pitched a fine game allowing the opponents but four safeties. While little midget" Rollins, centre fielder of the West Newton boys was the batting star, getting a double and two singles.

The Auburndale team shut out the Earnshaw Mills nine 3 to 0, Wednesday night at Victory Field, in a twilight game.

The Newton Y. M. C. A., baseball team will play the Somerville Cubs tomorrow afternoon, on the "Y" field. Tuesday the "Y" nine will go to Watertown, where they will face the J. W. Stone Co. team on Victory Field, in a twilight game. Thursday night on the local "Y" field the Brookside nine of the John T. Connor Company, will be the visitors, while for next week Saturday, arrangements are pending for a game on the home field with either the Methodist Men's Club of Watertown, or the Riverside Baseball club of Cambridge.

The Y. M. C. A. team has won five, tied three, and lost eight games to date and the players are expecting to bring their percentage of wins to the .500 mark the coming week. Among the teams which they have defeated are the Fleishman Yeast Company, Weston Town Team, and the Rust Craft Pub. Co., nine.

The West Newton A. C. were defeated last night at the J. J. Connolly playground, Roxbury, by the Notre Dame team 3-1. This team the night before was defeated by the Philadelphia Giants by the score 7-4.

Clark Hodder will defend his hold on the golf championship of the Prout's Neck Country Club tomorrow at Portland, Maine. With the championship goes the Sprague cup. The Newton youth will meet Charles Pierston of Montclair, N. J., in the final round.

The Newton Catholic Club added another victory to its string by defeating the Highlands nine 4 to 2, Wednesday night, at Newton Highlands. The second half race is slightly more than half over, with the Upper Falls nine in the lead closely pressed by the Catholic Club. The latter is taking over all its opponents and hoping for the Upper Falls team to strike a stumbling block. Either team has a chance to cop the second half title and meet the Earnshaw Mills team in the city series.

The Cardinals threw a scare into the Upper Falls team Wednesday night, when they entertained them on the Newton Centre diamond. A no score game was the result as it grew dark before either side could cross the plate. It was Upper Falls second tie game in the second half as the Highlands nine held them to a 3-3 score earlier in the month.

HOLBROOK ENTERS HARVARD

Among the students who have been admitted to the freshman class at Harvard this week, is Guy Holbrook, stellar athlete of the past four years at Newton high school. Holbrook ranks with the best of any athlete ever turned out by Coach Allie Dickinson with the possible exception of George Owen whose prowess on the gridiron, diamond, and rink is still fresh in the minds of sport followers and too well-known to need recounting.

Holbrook, too, has performed brilliantly on the gridiron, diamond and rink. Perhaps not as brilliantly as consistently. On the gridiron the sorrel-topped youngster could be depended upon to carry the ball for a gain at any time and when gains meant a first down he often got the signal. On the diamond, Holbrook held down the hot corner, creditably and while termed a slugger at the bat he came thru with the hits in the pinch more often than he failed.

Hockey was the sport in which Holbrook shone most brilliantly. While not deemed particularly fast while on the football or baseball fields, he was like lightning when on skates. As a centre, he had no equal in school-boy rank and it was mainly through his playing that Newton has held its high position in scholastic hockey circles. The hockey teams of the past few years were built around him and while he was ably supported by his teammates and much credit is due them for their ability Holbrook was the moving spirit not only on offense but the defence as well.

Not since the day, when George Owen entered Harvard, has Newton sent a three-letter man to the Cambridge University, and Holbrook has the athletic temperament and ability, to uphold the name that Newton has won in the college sport world. And Holbrook, as well as Owen, has Coach Allie Dickinson to thank for the fundamental knowledge and ability they have acquired under his direction.

NEWTON ARCHERS IN TOURNEY

Miss Dorothy D. Smith of Newton Centre, holder of the women's national archery championship for five years, started off well in the opening of the sesqui-national tournament, Tuesday, at Bryn Mawr. She led a big field in the first national round with 328 in 66 hits. The Newton Centre girl has a good advantage over her nearest competitor, Mrs. Rounselle of Pinehurst, N. C., who had a 255 in 55 hits. Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre, placed sixth with 172 in 42 hits, and Miss Eleanor True of Waban, seventh with 161 in 42 hits.

In the men's yorke, Dr. Paul W. Crouch of the Newton Archery club and national champion, placed fifth, in the first round with 420 in 96 hits. Miss Smith strengthened her hold on the Women's Archery championship yesterday when she won the second and final round in the 46th tournament. She scored 66 hits for a total of 306, bringing her total for the two rounds to 766. Miss Ruth Brewer placed seventh with 34 hits for 160 and Miss True landed fifteenth position with 28 for a score of 85.

Miss Smith also led the women's double Columbia with 142 hits for a score of 842.

Dr. Paul Crouch led the men's double Yorke with a score of 1148 including 211 hits.

Miss Brewer carried the Newton archers to victory in the wand shoot for women, scoring 2 out of 6.

FREE SWIMMING LESSONS

Free swimming lessons will be the feature of the Massachusetts Humane Society's annual swimming campaign to be conducted at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, during the week of August 23 to 28. There will be three daily classes at 2 P. M. for junior boys; 3 P. M. for junior girls; and 4 P. M. for adults, with Frank Vytal of the Humane Society as instructor. To those showing sufficient ability will be awarded the Humane Society's official "swimmer" pin. All non-swimmers are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to learn the correct fundamentals of swimming.

Nearly 4000 boys and girls in Massachusetts last year were taught to swim by the instructors sent out by the Humane Society. This Summer's program includes swimming campaigns in 20 cities and towns, as well as in two of the largest camps in New England. Every effort is being made to materially reduce the appalling number of deaths by drowning.

WEEKS WILL FILED

The will of John W. Weeks was filed Monday, in the Middlesex Probate Court, by Fred H. Williams. The instrument was written on Senate office stationery and had been executed on February 24, 1920. Specific bequests and trust funds were made to members of Mr. Weeks' immediate family and to employees totaled over $300,000. The residue of the estate, estimated at more than $12,000,000 was bequeathed in equal portions to the widow and two children of the deceased. The executors and trustees of the estate named are Mrs. Martha S. Weeks, Henry Hornblower and Daniel G. Wing. They are to receive $5000 each for their services and to serve with out surety. Henry N. Sweet, Olaf Olsen of Milton, and Harold P. Williams of Brookline are suggested as appraisers.

Among the bequests in the will are: "To my nephew, John Wingate Weeks of Northbend, Wash., $10,000; to my nieces, Martha and Elizabeth, children of my brother, William C. WABAN BOY RESCUED AT SEA

Gordon White, 18, the son of Wilfred White of 1734 Beacon Street, Waban, had a narrow escape from death off the New Jersey coast, Monday night. Young White was one of a party of students from Tabor Academy, Marion, Massachusetts, who are making a cruise on a 90-foot auxiliary schooner owned by the school. The boat left Philadelphia on Monday, bound for Philadelphia. Rough water was encountered and the craft was turned about. As it was approaching the inlet at Atlantic City, it was observed that the 16-foot tender trailing behind the schooner was filling with water.

White, who acts as mate on the boat, entered the tender to bail it and was engaged in this task when the rough sea snapped the tow line connecting the tender to the larger boat. The narrowness of the channel in which the schooner was being navigated prevented it being turned around to rescue White. Captain Weeks, commanding the craft continued into port and notified the coast guard of the plight of the Waban boy. A couple of life boats put out to go to his aid, but because of the heavy seas running, the coast guards were forced to return. All Monday night the half submerged little tender was tossed about, drifting out into the gale swept ocean.

Early Tuesday morning, the sea having become calmer, lifeboats set out from several different stations to search for White. Early Tuesday afternoon, a radio message was received from C-G 113, a coast guard patrol boat, that it had found the youth 13 miles off Beach Haven, New Jersey. The frail craft in which he had drifted for 18 hours was half filled with water, but it had fortunately kept afloat.

CONTEST SIDELIGHTS

The following letter which we feel is worth space was received from one of our readers early in the week: Newton Graphic:

I did not have time to hunt out the ads in your Weekly Prize Contest, so I just put them all together in a hurry like this.

"Every man should know there is no prohibition on specialized courteous advertising. There is plenty of time to improve your friendships, in your social circle with the outstretched hand and why not colorful service like palm. With this same policy, we give a painted floor, when you are advertising in the Newton Graphic.

Mrs. S. Simon.

WEEKLY PRIZE CONTEST

The first of our weekly prize contests which was printed in our last week's issue was a decided success. The first ten whose names are printed in another column sent in correct replies and were awarded prizes. Ten more prizes will be given this week to the first ten, who correctly fill out the blank below. If you failed to win a prize last week, try again. Many of the replies were correct, but were not sent in early enough—that is the main thing—get them in early. Several of the replies sent in were not complete. If filled out, others were not addressed to the Weekly Prize Contest Editor. Be sure that you fill them out entirely—complete the sentence, it is not necessary to complete the entire paragraph—fill in the name of the advertiser and his address, and then mail or bring them to the Weekly Prize Contest Editor, Newton Graphic, Newton, Mass.

EDITORIALS

One of the large factors in the apparent failure in law enforcement is the attitude taken by the large metropolitan newspapers in reporting the activities of bootleggers and the revenue officers. You will note in nearly all this class of news a disposition to play up the bootlegger as a kind of a hero, with eulogies on his cleverness to evade the officers of the law and on the other side there will be sneers or insinuations that all prohibition officers are bribe takers. When these newspapers will regard the news relative to the use of liquor in the same class as the news concerning narcotic drugs, there will be a noticeable improvement in public opinion on prohibition.

We are sorry to note that there is apparently a disposition on the part of our district court judges to return to the former practice of merely fining persons found guilty of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor. We hope it will not take the death of some innocent person to rouse public opinion to the point where the courts will have to jail these potential murderers.

With an increase of a half million dollars in maintenance charges this year, taxpayers of this city are to be congratulated on the fact that the new tax rate of $28 is but 60 cents over that of last year. A large increase in valuations, amounting to fourteen millions helped to keep the rate down.

FULLER-TREVOR

A midsummer wedding of interest to many residents of this city was that of Mr. Roscoe Hodges Fuller of Springfield, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Fuller of Hunnewell Hill, Newton and Miss Barbara Ellis Trevor, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Ellis Trevor of "The Circle," Ithaca, N. Y., which took place last Saturday evening in the Sage Chapel of Cornell University at Ithaca.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert H. Beattie. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, embroidered with silver and orchid paillettes, in which her great aunt was presented at the Court of St. James. The court train was of pale mauve satin, embroidered with silver paillettes and rhinestones and lined with ivory satin. The tulle veil, arranged as a cap, was fastened with orange blossoms and held in place by rose point lace edged with pearls.

The maid of honor was Miss Isabel Kimball of Ithaca, daughter of Prof. Dexter S. Kimball, the Dean of the College of Engineering of Cornell and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Francis Ford of Cleveland, Ohio, sister of the bride, Miss Barbara Fuller of Newton, sister of the groom, Miss Rowena Morse of Ithaca, N. Y., and Mrs. Lester M. Lehrenkraus of Huntington, Long Island.

The gowns of the bridesmaids were of varied shades of apple green taffeta, the maid of honor's being the lightest. They were made bouffante style, with very full ankle-length skirts, with shallow scallops at the bottom. The waists fitted the figure, and were decorated with tiny cording. The bridesmaids carried old fashioned bouquets, and each wore a short flat wreath of similar flowers at one side of the head. Mr. Jesse A. Jackson of Savannah, Georgia, a fraternity brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Willard Clark of Springfield, Mass., Horace Fuller, of Newton, Mass., a brother of the groom, John Eliot Holt of Springfield and Bertram Trevor of Ithaca, a brother of the bride.

Prof. Harold D. Smith, organist of Cornell University presided at the organ and there were two vocal selections by Mr. Willard Clark of Springfield. As the bridal party left the chapel, the University chimes in the Library tower played for fifteen minutes.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller being assisted in receiving by their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will be at home after Sept. 15th at 194 Central street Springfield, Mass.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Cornell. Mr. Fuller is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and Mrs. Fuller of the Kappa Gamma sorority.

CLEAN WATER MAINS

main by the men in charge of the cleaning. Contrary to report, there will be no line attached to the scrapers to pull them back in case they stick. This is not practical where there is pressure behind them. While the use of these devices is new to Newton, they are far from being an experiment. These and similar devices have been used for years by the National Water Main Cleaning Company in many of the larger cities of the country, such as Cleveland, Chicago, New York and St. Louis. The company now has contracts to clean 80,000 feet of mains in Boston and some of the mains of the Metropolitan Water System.

The incrustation which will be removed from the large main as a sediment that has been forming for many years. At various times in the past efforts have been made to clear the pipes of it by flushing, but with only partial success. The deposits have grown until in late years much trouble has been experienced in this city because of the prevalence of this sediment in the water. It has caused the water frequently to be discolored and unpleasant to the taste. The sediment is a combination of iron and manganese rust together with deposits caused by Crenothrix. For the benefit of those who may not know what the latter is, it may be explained that Crenothrix is a species of bacteria of the family Chlamydothrixaceae, a growth which occurs in ponds and reservoirs and imparts a bad taste to the water. This combination of vegetable and mineral matter, while decidedly unpleasant, is not injurious to health. On the contrary it has been adjudged by medical authorities to be somewhat beneficial, particularly because of the manganese contained in it. Other water, such as that of the Metropolitan System contains more iron rust than does the Newton water.

Commissioner Whitney suggests that residents of the city, on the evenings while the cleaning process is in progress, which under present plans will be Monday and Tuesday of next week, and probably succeeding evenings (if obstacles are encountered) draw enough water in the early evening, to last them until well into the next day. If this is done, should the loosening of the sediment cause some of it to work into the smaller mains and thence into the house pipes, householders will have enough clean water for drinking and cooking purposes until the discolored water will have run off. Necessary precautions will be taken to provide fire protection for such parts of the city as will be deprived of ordinary water-pressure during the short periods each night the cleaning process will be in progress. Newton Corner and Newtonville will have plenty of pressure Monday night from the reservoir. Newton Centre will during the late hours of the night have reduced pressure, its supply being provided direct from the pumping station. Chestnut Hill will be connected with the Brookline water mains. About 100 houses on the South Side will be without water for a few hours Monday night. On succeeding nights many more houses in other sections of the city will be inconvenienced. If the cleaning of the 20 inch main proves as successful as is expected, it is probable that some of the 12 inch mains will receive similar treatment. It is quite likely that Newton water for some days to come will be far from resembling the crystal fluid that gurgles down mountain streams. But the temporary inconvenience to which the residents of this city will be subjected, can be well endured with the prospect that it will afford permanent relief from the nuisance of drinking water impregnated with a solution of iron, manganese and Chlamydothrix.

PARISH REUNION

The annual reunion of Corpus Christi Parish, Auburndale, will be held at Norumbega Park on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 19, 20 and 21. Rev. Edmund J. Ronan, recently appointed assistant to the pastor, Rev. T. P. MacMannon, has been placed in charge of the affair, with Mrs. Frank A. O'Brien, secretary and treasurer and the following committee: Frank A. O'Brien, Bernard C. Reilly, Edward J. Butler, William J. Dolan, James J. Feerick, Mrs. James J. Feerick, Mrs. Sarah Taft and Miss Edna Moir.

The formal three day event will open with a concert at Norumbega Theatre, on Sunday, September 19, under the auspices of the Holy Name Society. Monday and Tuesday, the program will be in the Park Pavilion, where the bazaar features will be in charge of women of the parish.

Several preliminary parties will be held within the parish, the first of which will be on Wednesday evening, August 25 at the Riverside Recreation Club House, under the direction of Edna Moir. Mrs. John Kenney, Mary Butler and a committee of ladies. Whist will be held in the small hall, with dancing in the large hall to music by the Colonial Singing Orchestra. Several attractive features have been planned and a large crowd is expected to be present.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Last Friday night, at 10:13 P. M., at the corner of Bolyston and Walnut St., a Chandler touring car, driven by Giuseppe Cucci of 274 Langley Road, collided with an Essex coach, driven by Alex McCluskey of Cottage Street, West Roxbury. The McCluskey car was badly damaged and Mrs. Catherine McCluskey was cut about the face. She was attended by Dr. Baxter.

CHARLES BURNS

Charles Burns, a resident of Newton, for 35 years, died Saturday at his late residence, 312 Centre Street, after a long illness. Mr. Burns was a native of New Brunswick, and was 68 years of age. He is survived by his widow, and one daughter, Mrs. Sumner P. Davis of Detroit. His funeral service was held Tuesday, and burial was in Newton Cemetery.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph Foley, 17, of Lincoln road, and Francis Carroll, 17, of Jones court, were each fined $50 by Judge Bacon yesterday morning for committing larceny. A young man named Vachon parked his motorcycle in the rear of his residence on Jasset street and the two youths were found guilty of taking from the vehicle the seat, lights and horn. While the vital parts of the machine were not disturbed, Vachon, not being an equilibrist, sought the assistance of the police to recover the appropriated parts, as he could not ride the motorcycle standing up.

Harold Valentine of Greenwood avenue, West Newton, and Alphonse Chesley of Gerard court, West Newton, were sentenced to the Shirley Industrial School by Judge Bacon on Friday. Chesley's sentence was suspended. The boys had made a number of breaks in churches and houses in this city. Lanier Quinn of 1113 Washington street, who was implicated with them was bound over to the Grand Jury.

So noisy was a party of non-residents on Adams street at 3:30 Monday morning, that not only was the neighborhood awakened, but six policemen heard the racket at long distances and came hotfoot (or hotfoot) to the scene. Several hours later the quintet arrested by Policemen Frank Feeley, Monroe, Marshall, Charles Jenkins, Charlton and Goodale appeared before Judge Bacon, charged with drunkenness and disturbance. Michael Hoban, 42 Hall street, Jamaica Plain, Joseph Dolan, 37 Centre street, Jamaica Plain, John McCue, 34 Magnolia street, Roxbury, and Catherine Maher, 214 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, were each fined $20 for disturbance. James McDonough, 47 Clinton street, Roxbury, was fined $20 for disturbance and $15 for drunkenness.

Saturday night, five young men of Roxbury and Jamaica Plain, who desired to quaff some prohibition booze, without bothering anyone repaired to the wide meadow off Lagrange street, in the wilds of Oak Hill. Their effort for privacy was doomed to failure. Some exponent of the Volstead Act observed them and telephoned the police. The patrol auto hastened to the rural spot where the five were quietly imbibing redistilled wood alcohol and gave them a trip through Newton to police headquarters. They were later bailed out and ordered to appear in court Monday. They did not put in an appearance, but later in the morning one of them telephoned that the "auto-de-luxe" in which they had started to journey to West Newton had emulated the "deacon's one horse shay" and fallen apart. Default warrants were issued for the five and they will be in court tomorrow.

Wednesday night, the wires on the burglar alarm at the Newton Trust Company's Newton building, became crossed and the gong rang for twenty minutes. A crowd quickly gathered, including several police officers. The latter made investigation of the building and learned that no bandits were around.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Having served as a juror under Mr. Mr. Bushnell, I feel it a duty to report to my fellow citizens of Newton what a favorable impression he made upon us as a prosecuting officer of our county. Mr. Bushnell brought about several convictions during the February session were few and far between, with such a clear presentation of the issues.

With all due respect to other candidates it can be truthfully said he is entitled to promotion, he being now He is aggressive and at the same time the first Assistant District Attorney, absolutely fair to the defendant at the bar. He is young and fearless and we can make no mistake in retaining his services.

ABOUT TOWN

Under the heading "Women's Activities," one of our contemporaries had an account of a wedding. Apparently the groom must have been in a passive state.

Just because William Street, West Newton, furnished more brides the past two years, than any other street in the city, is no reason, according to the residents of that street, why it should be used by automobile petting parties.

Drunken autoists are becoming more numerous rather than less, if the amount of broken glass on our streets is any criterion. Motorists are kept on the alert dodging the remains of bottles thrown onto our highways. It is improbable that any sober person would hurl glass onto the streets.

The rails which ran from the main line of the M. & B. across Washington Street to Adams Street, have been removed, much to the satisfaction of autoists. Because of the refusal of the Town of Needham, to grant a bus franchise to the M. & B., it is uncertain when it will be possible to remove the tracks on Walnut Street at Newtonville Square. In the meantime autoists who get jounced whenever they drive over the uneven tracks crossing Washington Street at this place, would be appreciative if a few loads of tar were spread over the projecting paving blocks.

The sidewalk on the south side of Washington Street, between Church and Richardson Streets, is having a curbing placed alongside. This improvement will meet with the approval of the Mount Ida residents who use this walk in their journeys to and from the railroad station.

Several months ago the Metropolitan District Commission promised Representative Hollis that a guard rail or curbing would be placed along the embankment between the Charles River and Nonantum Road at the section between the foot of Williams St., and the foot of Charlesbank Road. Perhaps, now that a fatal accident has occurred there, some action will be taken by the Metropolitan officials. Alderman William E. Eerie, who called Mr. Hollis' attention to the need of this safeguard, is bringing further pressure to have the barrier erected.

One of the Boston papers, on Monday evening, had a photo showing residents of Newton training a German police dog to jump at a robber's throat. This is quite a stunt, but it would be unfortunate if the dog would make the grievous error of mistaking a peaceful citizen for a robber.

POLITICAL NOTES

While nomination papers have been signed and certified for Alderman William B. Baker, as a candidate for one of the Republican nominations for Representative in the new 4th district it is understood that they will not be filed with the state secretary and that Mr. Baker will not be a candidate at the coming primary.

Mr. Hugh S. Boyd has filed nomination papers as a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in the new 4th district.

This indicates that there will be a three cornered contest between Hollis, Thompson and Boyd for the two nominations with Representative Arthur W. Hollis conceded first place.

ARTICLE No. 33

In a recent article an analysis was made of the take-out of partner's no-trump when second hand had passed. One of the points emphasized was that if the original no-trump bidder didn't like the take-out, he should bid two no-trump. Since that time the writer has received several inquiries as to the type of hand that would justify a two no-trump bid over a take-out of one no-trump by partner with a bid of two hearts or two spades. The easiest way to answer that question is by asking one. Suppose your partner bid one spade and second hand passed, with what kind of hand would you bid one no-trump? Answer that question correctly and you will know when to bid two no-trump over partner's take-out of two hearts or two spades. The object of all correct bidding is to arrive at the best bid of the combined hands; that is, the best bid of twenty-six cards, not of thirteen. For example, suppose your partner bid one spade, second hand passed and you held the following cards:

Hearts—A, Q, 4
Clubs—K, J, 10, 7
Diamonds—Q, J, 7, 2
Spades—6, 3

The correct bid is undoubtedly one no-trump. Why? Because experience has shown that when your partner bids a suit and you have less than three cards of that suit, you will have a better chance for game at some other suit or no-trump. This is one of the steps in the process of finding out the best bid of the combined hands. If you don't deny help for partner's suit bid, how can you tell him the kind of hand that you have. Learn to "mirror" your hand to your partner, that is, tell him plainly and clearly by your bidding just what kind of hand you have. For that reason, suppose you bid one no-trump with the following hand:

Hearts—A, Q, 4
Clubs—K, J, 10, 7
Diamonds—Q, J, 7, 2
Spades—6, 3

Second hand passes, your partner bids two spades and fourth hand passes. Don't you think you ought to bid two no-trump for exactly the same reason that you would bid one no-trump with that hand over a one spade bid by partner? The principles are exactly the same in each instance.

In the following hands, there is no score, you are the dealer and have bid one no-trump. Second hand has passed, your partner has bid two spades and fourth hand has passed. What would you now bid?

Problem No. 17

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

TWO-LEAGUE NEWS ON PAGE 7

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

Newton Archers who went to the National Archery Association tournament, in connection with the Sesqui-Centennial, had a most enjoyable time. Over one hundred attended.

Dr. Paul Crouch of Newton Centre, lost the men's championship to Mr. Stanley Spencer of California. Crouch put up a stiff fight, but could not keep pace with the tall Californian.

Miss Dorothy Smith of Newton Centre, retained the woman's championship for Newton, for the sixth time. Mrs. Rounseville of North Carolina, a game hunter and expert archer, was expected to be a strong competitor, but failed to make such a high score in this her first tournament.

Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre, won the wand shot, with two hits out of six arrows, for the second time. The object to be hit is an inch-wide stick, 2 yards long, at a distance of 40-yards. Miss Brewer won 6th place on the championship list the first morning, and 3rd place on the second morning. Fifty ladies competed.

Miss Eleanor True of Waban, won 7th place, on the championship list the first morning. Miss True was special correspondent of the Transcript, for the tournament, and did some very creditable work.

Miss Smith and Miss Brewer were also members of a team of Newton Archers, who won the team shoot cup. Miss Smith, especially, making a very fine score.

On the list of officers for next year, appears, as President, Mr. Louis C. Smith of Newton Centre; and as Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Burton Payne Gray, of Newton Centre. Next year's tournament is to be held in, or near Boston, and the Newton Archers will be hosts, wherever a suitable field is selected. Newton itself does not seem to have a suitable field that is large enough.

CADDY TOURNAMENT AT ALBEMARLE

The seventh annual Massachusetts Caddy championship was staged Tuesday on the Albemarle Golf course.

It was won by Joseph Lynch of the Brookline Country Club, who scored 150, for his two rounds of medal play, over the 180 hole course, which has a par of 71. Tom Fahy of Winchester, was second and William Cosgrove of Green Hill, tied for third, with Tom Murphy of Kernwood. Frank Roddy of Commonwealth, who was in a tie for third, in the morning round with an 84, dropped to sixth, in the afternoon.

The tournament was conducted for the youngsters with all the dignity of a senior championship. Secretary W. F. Garcelon of the M. G. A., and A. W. Rydstrom, a member of the executive committee, were on hand to act in an advisory capacity. Bill Duffy, the Albemarle pro, Leslie Cottrell, assistant at Winchester, and Dan Horan, the state handicapper, handled the starting and other details. Bill Hanna, chairman of the Albemarle's golf committee, presented the trophies and congratulated the leaders. At lunch, the youngsters were the guests of the Massachusetts Golf Association.

MR. MACPHERSON HERE

A group of athletes who were in their prime, in the days when the Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball teams state champions, gathered Wednesday night, to greet their former coach and physical director, William MacPherson, at the home of J. Sherman Irving on Newell Road, Auburndale. Mr. Mac, as he was called by nearly everyone, who knew him, is the present general secretary of the Stuebenville, Ohio, Y. M. C. A. has been in New England, for the past few weeks, and was in town, Wednesday, prior to returning to his work at Stuebenville.

Reminiscences of from ten to fifteen years ago, were in order and those present enjoyed the recollection of dim and forgotten episodes, as well as tales of Mr. Mac's present duties. Among those present were, Bob Muir, Jack Mackenzie, Louis Bills, Bill Cady, and John Irving, former basketball players; John Hines, Paul Chamberlain, Seth Wood, Ted Morton, Ernest Grant, and Webster Anders, whose deats on the track and gymnasium apparatus are still remembered by many, and Harry W. Bascom, general secretary of the local association.

Mr. MacPherson recalled humorous and pleasing incidents of the basketball games at the court in the old association building, at the corner of Elmwood and Centre Streets, known as Eliot Block, games away from home and on the trips to Maine, which used to be an annual affair in those days. These were supplemented by other reminiscences of competition for the Wait Trophy, track meets and by inquiries as to the whereabouts of other athletes of that day.

SPORT NOTES

Upper Falls made it seven straight wins in the second half of the twilight league race last Friday night, by taking the Pals in to camp 3 to 1, on the Upper Falls playground. The home team scored all its runs in the first inning off Brown. Pass relieved Brown and held the league leaders scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Last Friday night, the West Newton A. C., was defeated 3 to 2 by the Waltham B. B. C. at Waltham. Cooper twirled for the West Newton boys, "Beany" Barnes, former star of the Newton Y. M. C. A. nine was on the mound for the winners.

Auburndale proved to be the Upper Falls team's first stumbling block in the second half race. Monday night at the West Newton Common, the league leaders dropped their first game by a 3-2 score. Carmody was on the mound for the Auburndale team with Dick Stumpf on the receiving end. Crowley pitched for Upper Falls, while Neil Mahoney, former Newton High school backstop was behind the bat.

Clark Hodder won permanent possession of the Sprague cup, symbol of the golf championship of the Prout's Neck Country Club, last Sunday, by defeating Charles Pierson of Montclair, N. J., 4 up in the morning round, and 7 and 5 in the afternoon's play. The Newton youth had twice previously won the cup.

Playing in his first tournament since he won the Massachusetts singles championship last June, at Longwood, Lawrence B. Rice, of Newton Centre tennis star, won his first and second round matches in straight love-sets in the Maine championships at Squirrel Island on Monday.

Other Newton entries in the Maine tennis championships were, A. Holt and Robert Turner, who were both eliminated in the second round. Holt lost to Burrows of Portland, 7-5, 6-4, while Turner, a member of the high school tennis team last spring, was put out by Wilder of New Haven, in a spectacular three-set match, 7-5, 7-9, 6-3.

Bill Tilden, national tennis champion, put out Henry L. Johnson of Waban, Tuesday, in the Newport Casino tournament for the Casino Bowl. The Waban youth went down under the champions shots, 6-1, 6-2. Malcolm Hill, Johnson's doubles partner, forced Alonso, the Spanish star, to the top of his game, to prevent their match from going to the third set. Hill's determined attack at the net compelled the Spaniard, to exert all his energy in covering the court. The Waban youth finally fell, 6-3, 7-5.

Ed Fairweather of the Sandy Burr Golf Club of Wayland, tied the course record at Willowdale Golf Club, South Portland, Maine, last Friday, getting a par 35, for the first nine holes. His second nine, required four strokes more giving him a 74, for the 18 holes, or four over par figures. He is a brother of Donald Fairweather, Boston University golfer and medalist in the Willowdale championship qualifying round last Thursday.

The Somerville Cubes pinned a 15 to 10 defeat on the Newton Y. M. C. A., nine last Saturday, on the local "Y" field, in a loosely played contest. The batting of McAuliffe and Landry of the winners was the feature. McDonald, Toohy and Wellman went into the box for the locals in a vain effort to stem the avalanche of hits and runs that came from the visitors bats.

Hokanson, Wellman, and Toohy form the "Y" pitching staff and these twirlers have been pitching good ball only to see their games lost by small margins. Moran is the first string catcher, former members of the team are, Leonard, on first; Hitchcock, at second; McDonald at shortstop; McCarthy, a former B. C. athlete, at the hot corner; and Varley, Widener, Connelly, McPherson and Murphy in the outfield.

The Newton Pals made a one-sided affair of the game last Saturday, at Victory field, with the Wellesley Town Team, breezing through the nine innings for a 9 to 1 win. Lyman was in the box for the Pals and held the visitors to five hits while his teammates garnered twelve off the opposing pitcher. One run in the fourth was all the visitors were able to produce. The Pals scored two in the first, two in the fifth, two more in the sixth and three in the eighth.

William Ellison in the Harriet, was just nosed out of the first place last Saturday, in the races at Duxbury. He was just three seconds behind the first place winner, while Miss Harriet Ellison in the Ace, placed third.

The Two-State Y. M. C. A. Tennis championship finals will be played on the Newton "Y" courts on Saturday, September 18th, at 2 P. M. The preliminaries will be staged the week previous with the Newton team, playing in the Boston section at Boston. Two singles and one doubles match will be played.

The West Newton A. C. defeated the Highland A. A. 8-5, Monday night at the Highlands, in a two-league affair. The Highlands team scored five runs, off Wheeler in the first inning, after which Wright went to the mound and shut them out. In the first, fourth, and (Continued on Page 7)

ABOUT TOWN

It has been the common impression among Newton officials and residents that the big water mains of the city, are so filled with sediment, that the flow of water has been greatly impeded, thus causing the pressure to be so reduced that incrustations have formed in the pipes throughout the city. The amount of sediment found in the twenty inch main leading from the pumping station to the reservoir, while appreciable, was not enough to cause a great reduction in the pressure. It will perhaps be necessary to clean out the 12-inch main throughout the city, before the desired relief will be obtained from the recurring nuisance of discolored water which is unfit for household use.

According to some experts the real reason for the trouble in recent years with Newton water—is the great growth of this city, which has necessitated the laying of many miles of laterals from the larger water mains. These laterals have reduced considerably the pressure in the big mains, and thus permitted the formation of incrustations in water pipes throughout the city. Newton is not alone in this trouble. Cities and towns all over the country have had, and are having the same experience. Either the water mains must be cleaned, or more 20 and 12-inch mains laid to replace smaller pipes.

If the comparative space devoted to certain Boston papers to the deaths of Charles W. Eliot and Rudolph Valentino is any criterion, a large percentage of the population of the city, formerly noted as the literary center of the United States, is more concerned with "movies" than with education.

The City of Newton is fortunate to have in its employ two such competent men as Water Commissioner, J. Clifton Whitney, and his assistant, Mark V. Croker, Superintendent of the pumping station. Mr. Whitney has given nearly fifty years of faithful service to the city and has been conscientious almost to a fault. He has saved many thousands of dollars to our taxpayers during his long term of office.

There may be a better informed man regarding the mechanics of a municipal water system than Mr. Croker, but we doubt it. To years of experience he has added considerable study concerning his profession until he has become a veritable encyclopedia as regards that most vital of all human necessities,—water.

REPUBLICANS OUTING

Republicans from every section of Massachusetts are planning to take part in the big political outing on Wednesday, September 1, at Norumbega Park in Auburndale, for which an attractive and interesting program is being prepared. All Republicans interested in the political campaign will have an opportunity to hear the issues discussed by prominent speakers and for good measure there will be lunch, music, motion pictures, vaudeville and an all around good time that will last all the afternoon.

The Republican State Committee, city and town committees and all state and local Republican clubs are cooperating to make this one of the biggest political events that has ever taken place in Massachusetts. Already there has been a large demand for tickets.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller, Lieutenant Governor, Frank G. Allen, United States Senator, William M. Butler, and at least one other speaker of national prominence will give addresses. The addresses will be amplified by loud speakers.

Musical features will include the famous Knickerbocker Club of Boston, champion male quartette of America, which will sing the latest campaign songs, and there will be lively numbers by the 101st Veteran's Band. Special vaudeville attractions will be booked.

Extra street cars will be run to Norumbega Park from the Park Street Subway Station in Boston. Automobiles may go directly to the park by following Commonwealth Avenue, and the road to Worcester. There will be plenty of parking space at the Park. The luncheon will be served from 12.30 to 2 o'clock, without extra charge.

CITY HALL NOTES

The contract for building the Newtonville Drain, southwest of Crafts St., (1231 linear feet) has been awarded by the Street Commissioner, to the lowest bidder, the C. & R. Construction Company of Boston, for the sum of $17,220.

The Street Commissioner has awarded the contract for building cement wall on North Street, near Commonwealth Avenue, to the lowest bidder, Richard White of West Newton, for the sum of $2775.

The contract for the regrading of the roadway was also awarded to the lowest bidder, Richard White of West Newton, for the sum of $2930.

ONE MORE AFTERNOON

The summer half-holiday schedule of the Newton stores is to be extended one week, to include the first Wednesday in September, which is next Wednesday, September 1. This is in accordance with a vote of the mercantile committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and with a majority sentiment of those merchants, who are observing the regular Wednesday afternoon closing schedule, during the three months, just drawing to a close, June, July, and August. It is very seldom that the first Wednesday, in September, comes before Labor Day, and the matter was overlooked when it was decided to continue this year, the three months half-holiday plan, which had worked out so successfully in the previous year.

The various merchants who were interviewed were generally unanimous in favor of continuing the closing schedule until after Labor Day, which has been the intent of the committee at practically all times, when the summer half-holiday schedule has been under consideration. Therefore, instead of bringing this season's schedule to a close on Wednesday, of this week, it will be extended to include Wednesday, of next week. This means that the stores generally throughout the city will not resume staying open all day on Wednesdays, until the Wednesday after Labor Day, September 5.

SESQUI-CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

The transportation lines, both by steamer and rail, are offering some very low rate excursion tickets, good for 10 days, to the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, and hotel accommodations are available at reasonable rates.

The Colpitts Tourist Company, 281 Washington Street, Boston, are running some very popular all-expense excursions to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, week's trip, for $54.75. Also some very popular excursions to Albany, the Hudson River, and New York, for $24.75. Also Fall excursions to Montreal, Quebec, and the White Mountains, and to Bermuda and Washington.

September, makes a very fine vacation month and for those who have not had their vacation, they would do well to get prospectus of some of Colpitts attractive, short vacation tours.

PIGEONS BRING ARMY MESSAGES

Six homing pigeons, the property of George Buitta, of 231 Upland Avenue, Newton Highlands, were used Tuesday, in a test flight by the 321st Signal Battalion, now in training at Camp Devens. The pigeons were all young birds, having been raised this Spring, and this was their first flight. They were released at the camp at 2 o'clock, and arrived at their home cote between 3.35 and 4.15. Birds owned by Mr. Buitta won the championship last year and second place this year, in the long distance contest of the United Homing Concours. The race was from Alyner, Ontario, to the home cotes of the pigeons entered.

It was the first annual "Kiddies Day." The kids started to arrive at 10 A. M., coming in special cars, busses and autos. They were chaperoned by members of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Legion Posts and Elks. Cooperating with these organizations were the Boston Baptist Bethel, Corpus Christi Church, City Missionary Society, Children's Friend Society, Catholic Charitable Bureau, West End House, Bennett Street Industrial School, Norfolk House Centre. Merchants had contributed milk, cookies and ice cream, which were distributed to the youngsters. Every child was given a pass to the various attractions at the park and the theatre was reserved for them in the afternoon, two shows being presented.

Seven nurses from the Newton District Nursing Association were in attendance, but not one accident happened. The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, used every one of its available open cars and busses to assist in transporting the kids. The Waltham Kiwanis Club brought 1100 children, Newton Kiwanis Club 350, and Newton Post, American Legion, 1000.

WIND TIPS 10 CANOES

Our industrious Chinese brethren who during six days a week work long and laboriously in laundries and restaurants have little time for sports. But there is one form of recreation for which they display a strong liking. On any pleasant Sunday, several members of the Mongolian race may be seen in canoes on the Charles at Riverside. Last Sunday, three Cantonese were blithely paddling one of the frail craft when a sudden gust of wind capsized them into the water. They were rescued by Patrolman Guy Sanderson of the Metropolitan Police. The Asiatics were not alone in getting wet. Nine canoes containing Caucasians also tipped over. Patrolman Arthur Cadigan rescued two of the victims. The remainder of the unfortunate canoeists reached shore unassisted.

ABOUT TOWN

The wall of Cole's Block, facing the railroad tracks is covered with a huge sign advertising the business of John T. Burns & Sons. This wall for many years had on it the name of the late Howard B. Coffin, Grocer. Some years past, Mr. Burns bought the block and now his name is emblazoned on the side of the old structure, also the information that for 40 years, he has been in business in Newton. This is correct—but not all of those 40 years were spent by Mr. Burns in the business in which he is now engaged.

For many years, Mr. Burns conducted a barber shop in Cole's Block. At first the shop was located on the second floor of the building, and later it was moved to the street floor. Even when a barber, Mr. Burns displayed the same enterprise and initiative which he has manifested in achieving the great success he attained since his advent into the real estate business over a score of years past. While other barbers were content to give ordinary hair cuts, "Mr. John T." as his friends were wont to call him, was a tonsorial artist. He applied science to his work and made a specialty of physiological hair-cuts. In those days the ladies wore their hair long—it was their crowning glory, and the fair sex vied one with the other in the endeavor to possess tresses of great length. The Seven Sutherland Sisters, whose silken locks trailed to the floor, were as much admired as are the movie stars of today. The only patrons of the barbers then were, the males of the species, and they occupied the chairs in the barber shops for most part either in the early morning hours or in the evening. During the middle of the day the old time barbers reaped no harvest, as do their modern successors, from ladies—young and old, who come weekly to have their hair bobbed, marcelled, and clipped.

Mr. Burns was too industrious a man to sit idle several hours daily. He had perception enough to realize that the real estate business in Newton, was being sadly neglected. So he started to engage in it, first as a part time proposition, and later he devoted all his working hours to it. He had been successful at his former occupation, in his new vocation he was a woe. The hustle he put into cutting, leasing and selling property made him flourish like a green bay tree and he speedily forged ahead of the oldtimers in the business in Newton. And so, today, as the oldtimers gaze upon the huge new sign on Cole's Block, they cannot but recall the meteoric rise of the gentleman whose name it bears.

It will be a boon to persons using autos in Newton, and numerous residents of this city resort to this mode of travel, if the finances of our municipality will ever permit the defining of parking spaces in the business sections. In the past, at infrequent intervals, white lines were painted on the streets to show auto drivers where and how to park. Most cities keep such parking spaces defined at all times by painted lines. Newton does not. The result is—that autos are parked at all angles, many arguments and delays follow the pocketing of cars by other machines parked adjoining at different angles, and fewer autos can be parked than if the spaces were defined. White paint is not so expensive that Newton cannot afford to use it.

Many were the complaints filling the atmosphere at Newton Corner from Friday afternoon, until Monday noon. Some official of the Boston Elevated "pulled a bone" which caused oodles of indignant comments to be made by thousands of patrons of that transportation company. Passengers coming from Boston were forced to alight from the cars on the bridge over the Boston & Albany tracks at Washington Street, 100 yards east of the regular stop in Nonantum Square. The next stop is over a quarter mile away at Boyd Street.

The city has purchased a new aerial ladder which will shortly arrive at the quarters of Engine 1, at Newton Corner. To preclude the possibility of this long piece of apparatus being prevented from leaving its quarters by the stopping of electric cars in front of the fire house, Chief Randlett requested the officials of the Boston Elevated to instruct motormen to bring the cars to a dead stop 50 feet east of the fire house. Either the Elevated officials misinterpreted his request, or thought they would kill two birds with one stone. Anyhow, Friday afternoon, a post at the bridge was painted white to designate a stop, and passengers were informed by conductors that they must leave the cars at this place or ride down to Boyd Street, Watertown. Some of the conductors did not prove good at explaining and many wrathful passengers were carried down Galen Street, several hundreds of yards beyond their destination at Newton Corner. Protests started to pour in to Mayor Childs and other Newton officials. Street Commissioner Stuart, communicated with the transportation chief of the Elevated, Monday morning, and Monday afternoon, passengers were again carried to Nonantum Square.

The amusing feature, if it could be so termed, of the action of the Elevated in using the bridge as a stopping point, was the fact—that on of the bridge is a sign stating that the maximum load to be placed on this structure at one time is 14 tons. The big semi-converter electric cars weigh loaded about 40 tons, their trailers loaded weigh around 20 tons. This caused several times the load on the bridge which it is supposed to carry.

The incident of the muddle over the request of Chief Randlett calls attention to the antiquated dangerously placed fire station at Newton Corner. The building is much too small for present needs, the firemen there are poorly quartered, and with the very heavy traffic at Nonantum Square, the probability of accident is faced every time the fire trucks respond to an alarm. For years the city has been holding the land formerly occupied by the old armory at the corner of Washington Street and Centre Place, as a location for a new fire apparatus station. A modern building should be erected on this lot without further delay.

The state law specifies that no vehicle over 28 feet in length shall use the highways without special permission from each city or town through which it passes. There is a huge auto vehicle regularly in use carrying auto bodies which is over 40 feet in length. It is becoming a common practice for huge trucks to have equally huge trailers attached, their combined lengths totalling over 35 feet. These violations of the law pass unnoticed. Why? Conditions on our highways are dangerous enough without allowing them to be used by "freight trains."

POLICE NEWS

The police force of Newton could be abolished if this city was as free at all times from violations of the law as it was during the past week-end. No session of the court was held Monday, because no arrests had been made on Saturday or Sunday, and there were no continued cases to be tried. This was in decided contrast to the preceding Monday, when 32 violators of the law were in court.

Members of the Newton police, Patrolmen Dan Crowley and Joe Green made one arrest at 1.30 Monday morning, but it was made across the Charles River, near Worcester Street, on the Wellesley side and the offender was turned over to the Wellesley police. Eddie Horton, 28, of Popular Street, New Haven, started from the city on Sunday, to reach Boston, in search of work. He walked part of the way, but travelled for the most of the distance in autos of friendly tourists. Horton's last lift brought him only as far as Wellesley Hills, and he had nearly reached the bridge over the Charles at Upper Falls, when a man came out of a field by the road and without any preliminaries fired two shots at him. The New Haven man is an overseas veteran, and while being under fire was no new experience, the fact that he was being used as an individual target at close range, was rather disconcerting, so without undue delay he fell into double quick time and hastened over the bridge into Upper Falls. There along his route of advance he encountered Officers Crowley and Green and told them of his adventure.

The policemen went back to the scene, guided by Horton and deployed into the field. Seeing a figure lurking nearby, they courageously advanced with drawn weapons and captured Giuseppe Dusari, 27, of 21 Glenwood Avenue, Wellesley. Giuseppe, according to the police was drunk and in his possession was an automatic pistol of foreign make. The gun contained 10 cartridges. Dusari was taken to police headquarters and booked for assault with a dangerous weapon, and for possessing a firearm unlawfully. He was turned over to the Wellesley police and in the Dedham court, Monday, Judge Sanford sentenced him to one year in the House of Correction.

BY A LAKE IN JULY

Tell me the secret of this summer afternoon,
When the trees bend low with idle waiting
And move but as in blessed swoon,
To wake with the wind's soft mating.

Tell me the secret of the shimmering lake—
Its waters curled like human smiling lips;
By which the soul of man may courage take,
Bound in by shaggy truth, like the rough coast's finger tips.

Tell me the secret of this wide blue sky,
Supremely careless of the earth below;
Aloft and distant with a splendor high,
But brooding like a mother o'er the babe that is to grow.

Tell me the secret of this full-blown world—
Declare the meaning of its flaring open doors;
Or stand with me in consternation huddled,
While the soul flies low and wonders and adores.

The above poem by Rev. George Lawrence Parker, the minister of the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre, appears in The Christian Register (Boston), of July 22.

WEEKLY PRIZE CONTEST COME ON SOUTH SIDE!!!

The contest editor has received a legitimate protest from one of our many South side readers in consequence of which we have changed the rules of the contest somewhat, in order to give those readers on the south side of the city an equal chance. Due to the fact that the Graphics are not off the press in time to catch the afternoon mail, on the south side of the city, that section does not get the paper until Saturday morning, at the earliest although some of the newsdealers have them on sale late Friday afternoon. The sections on the main line track of the B. & A. R. R., can ordinarily obtain their Graphics from the various newsdealers, Friday afternoon. Such a procedure therefore handicaps those readers from the south side in getting their contest blanks filled out and returned.

Starting this week, we have divided the city into two sections, as follows: Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, and Nonantum, will make up the North side; Chestnut Hill, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Waban, Newton Lower Falls, and Newton Upper Falls, will make up the South side.

Five prizes will be awarded in each section. The first prize, in each section, will be as usual an order for two dollars on a local store. The other four prizes in each section will be passes for two to the Community Theatre, Newton, good for any one night in the week.

The first five blanks, correctly filled out and returned, in each section, will be awarded the prizes regardless of the number of correct ones received from the North side, prior to the arrival of the first one from the South side section.

Remember this—follow the rules to the letter and get your blanks in early. With so many correct replies coming in each rule must be strictly observed out of fairness to all. The winning of a prize last week, does not bar you from further entry. Try each week. Anyone is eligible, who is not connected with the Graphic.

The Rules

Anyone not connected with the Graphic is eligible. Below you will find a coupon divided into twelve blank sections. Each section contains the first few words of a line taken from an advertisement in this week's issue and a place for the name and address of the advertiser from whose ad the uncompleted line is taken. Look through the ads, find the proper line, fill in the uncompleted portion and the name and address of the advertiser. When you have filled out all twelve of the blanks sign your name and address at the bottom.

Clip the coupon and bring or mail it to the Weekly Prize Contest Editor, Newton Graphic, Box 205, Newton. The first ten correct replies received at the Graphic office will be awarded prizes.

First prize this week—(North side section) A $2.00 order good for any merchandise at either of the Ford Markets, Newton or Newtonville. (South side section) A $2.00 order good for any merchandise at the store of Wm. Morton Cole, Inc., 991 Boylston Newton Highlands.

Second to fifth prizes, inclusive, (each division)—Passes for two persons to the Community Theatre—good for any night in the week.

As an example the last blank is filled out. The line is taken from the advertisement of the Newton Co-operative Bank on Page 1. "Every service rendered by a" is your clue. "Co-operative Bank is offered to Newton Residents" is the uncompleted portion which you are to fill in as well as the name and address of the advertiser. Fill out the other twelve blanks.

EDITORIALS

The campaign of the editor of the Graphic for the Republican nomination for Councilor in this district is being welcomed by those who believe this honorary office should not be held in perpetuity of the present incumbent. Four years has always been the limit of service for this office, while the present councillor seeks to make it eight years, with a possibility of even more if successful in the present contest.

With his usual good judgment, Mr. Henry I. Harriman of this city offers some excellent suggestions in the regulation of traffic in Boston.

What a contrast between the funeral services of Dr. Elliot and Valentino. One a symphony the other mere jazz.

WATER MAINS CLEANED

the surface, it was closely inspected to observe how much sediment was incrustation within it. Most of those present were surprised at the comparatively small amount. The incrustation was only in patches and at no place was it an inch deep. At 10:45, a feared situation occurred when the fire alarm started to ring. Fortunately the Box was 242, on Crafts Street, Newtonville, in a section which was receiving plenty of water through the 12-inch main along Waverley Avenue. The blaze was in a Ford automobile, owned by Frank Maguire, of Maguire Court. The machine was destroyed. Following this blaze, Assistant Chief Stacy, who is in charge of the department during Chief Randlett's vacation, arrived and informed those present that extra apparatus would answer any alarm in the section temporarily deprived of water so that long lines of hose would be available in case of fire.

At 11:30, the crew of the National Water Main Cleaning Company proceeded to the excavation on Ward Street, near Hammond. Here another section of the huge 20-inch main was removed and in its place was inserted another length of pipe containing the scraping device which cleans the sediment from the mains. The joints were sealed, the water-gate leading from the reservoir opened, and a few minutes before 3 A. M. Tuesday, the scraping machine started its course down the big pipe under Ward Street. "Joe" Connors, in charge of the cleaning process started to follow it on foot. His trained ear can detect the progress of the big scraper and it is his job to keep pace with it so that in case it becomes stuck, he knows just where to have another excavation made, so that the main can be cut into and the device loosened. Ordinarily the scraper moves about as rapidly as a man can walk, and it was calculated that it would take about twenty minutes for it to make the journey along the length of Ward Street. But the perceptible grade down Ward Street, caused the machine to develop unusual speed and Connors had to jog along at a dog trot, that made him well winded when he reached Centre Street, some seconds after the machine had soared out of the open main.

Aldermen Bail, Earle, Gallagher and Hawkins, together with Albert T. Stuart, had "hung on" to see the big act and were present at the reservoir end of the main when the fun started. They quickly motored to the other end of the show, at the corner of Ward and Centre Streets, to see what they could see. According to Alderman Earle, it took 18 minutes for the machine to scrape through the 4000 feet of main. Alderman Gallagher asserts it took but 17 minutes. John Barry of the "GLOBE" is Positive it took 11½ minutes. Mark Croker gives 12 minutes, as the correct time. This is probably correct as it is the average of the other three estimates. During the several minutes that the "galley" was awaiting the appearance of the cleaning device, a huge volume of brown colored water, impregnated with rust and sediment, gushed from the open end of the main and flowed down Centre Street onto Commonwealth Avenue. Employees of the water department scraped up a number of piles of the silt, shovelled it into a truck and carted it away.

The cleaning machine having emerged from the main, water was allowed to flow for several minutes until it showed absolutely free from foreign matter. Then the gate was again closed and a new section of pipe fitted in the main. Wednesday night, an earlier start was made. The gates were closed in the big pipe at 7 o'clock. This enabled the scraping machine to be started from the corner of Ward and Centre Streets, at 122 A. M. Tuesday morning, even though considerable more preparatory work had to be accomplished than on the preceding Monday night. About 100 persons remained through the night on the grounds of the pumping station at Upper Falls, even though a steady rain fell. Included in the gathering were Aldermen Bail, Favinger, and Gallagher of the Water Committee, Aldermen Fitts, Hawkins, Hodgdon, Earle, Gordon and Madden.

Eleven minutes after the scraper started, the water at the open end of the main, at the pumping station, nearly three miles distant, commenced to become colored. In a minute or so it was well filled with pieces of sediment, and in another minute it was gushing out apparently as black as ink, as seen in the dim light afforded by a couple of calcium torches. Fourteen minutes later the flow of water appreciably ceased, causing Commissioner Whitney and Supt. Croker to show signs of anxiety. They knew that the less flow in the flow meant that the cleaning device had reached the bridge over the B. & A. tracks near Crystal lake. Here the main makes two bends to go under the bridge and this was the point where it was feared the scraper might become stuck. For ten minutes, the decreased flow continued. Then the water spurted forth again with increased force and the watchers knew the bridge had been passed and that it was almost a certainty the rest of the main would be travelled successfully, by the cleaning machine. At 2:26 A. M., just a trifle over one hour after it had started, the scraper reached the bottom of the bend leading to the trough which had been constructed to carry the immense volume of water across the yard of the pumping station into the Charles River. For a minute it struggled to force itself up through the opening. Masses of sediment held it back. Spurts of muddy water gushed out driving the spectators to a safe distance. Finally the tremendous pressure of the millions of gallons of water back of the scraper conquered, and the machine catapulted out into the trough. For sometime after the water was allowed to run until it showed completely clear of the sediment.

The yard of the pumping station, formerly covered with an attractive green lawn, bears mute evidence as to the amount of sediment which was incrustation in the large main. It is asked for suggestions from committee more than probable that the smaller chairman.

mains contain an even larger proportion of incrustation. It is the intention of the special committee dealing with the water problem to have the cleaning process applied to the 12-inch main, of which there are about 90,000 feet in the city. If the larger pipes are freed of the sediment which had been accumulating, in some cases for fifty years, it is possible that the smaller pipes can be flushed by the flushing process, which is done by employees of the Water Department. The water on Thursday and today, has had a disagreeable metallic taste. This is unavoidable and must be expected to occur in the future in such parts of the city as may be served by the smaller mains which will be cleaned at various intervals. It is probable that most residents of the city will endure with patience the temporary inconvenience with the knowledge that within a comparatively short time Newton's water will be much improved.

NEW POLICY IN HEARINGS

of the following petitions for gasoline filling stations—Daniel Barnicle, 448 Lexington street, Auburndale; David Volk, Woodward street near Boylston, Newton Highlands; Albert T. Stuart, Walnut and Centre streets, Newton Highlands; Highland Oil Company, Easy street, Newton Highlands. The Aldermen accepted the report of the License Committee and granted all these permits. Also a permit for a 75-car public garage at the corner of Walnut and Centre streets to Albert T. Stuart.

By this action the aldermen gave evidence that a radical change has been adopted in Newton as regards permits for gasoline filling stations. Heretofore it has been quite difficult to obtain permits for this line of business in Newton. As a result this city had much fewer gas stations than most neighboring cities and towns. As Newton has more autos in proportion to its population than any city in the state, in the past few years almost any permit received for a gasoline filling station in this municipality was worth thousands of dollars. Nearly every petition for a gas station met with vigorous opposition. The common arguments used against them have been—that they are dangerous, depreciate the value of surrounding property, are not needed, and that Newton's attractiveness will suffer if this city becomes filled with gas stations. The present Board of Aldermen seems to have adopted the policy of granting permits for drive-in filling stations when applied for in business districts, unless there is a bona-fide argument against them—such as an appreciable element of danger, either as traffic hazards or the proximity of schools. The old law of "supply and demand" is bound to apply to filling stations. As they become more numerous in Newton, they will become less profitable, and will not be so sought after. Incidentally, at least one of the competing companies of the past few years, which spent money lavishly in developing its business in this territory, has been absorbed by the "oil octopus." When rivalry is removed through the consolidation of companies, fancy prices cease to be paid for the purchase or lease of supposedly good sites for gasoline stations.

Alderman Weeks, Chairman of the Finance Committee, spoke of the "good news" received by the people of Newton who pay the bills. He desired to call attention to just what the new tax-rate of $28 means. He, with the other members of the Finance Committee, was much surprised to learn that the Assessors, instead of finding $9,000,000 increased valuation in taxable property in the city this year as had been estimated, discovered $13,779,900. The total warrants for 1926 call for appropriations of $4,406,000, an increase of $144,000 over last year. The budget increase is $370,000. The amount to be raised by tax levy is $3,702,000. Certain school expenses totalling $207,000, should have gone into bonds, but because of the limited borrowing capacity of the city, this amount had to be included in the tax levy, and accounts for an increase of $120 in the rate. Other appreciable expenditures during the year have been $38,000 for the removal of snow and ice, $15,000 for a new fire truck, $21,000 for draining Bullough's Pond.

Alderman Bail, Chairman of the special committee appointed to study the water system of the city, told of the success attained Monday night in cleaning out the 20 inch main along Ward street. He suggested that every member of the aldermen go to Upper Falls after the meeting to witness the condition of the water which would precede the three-mile advance of the cleaning machine through the 20-inch main between Ward street and the pumping station. Mr. Bail said, "The committee will probably ask that the 80,000 feet of 12-inch water main in Newton receive the same cleaning treatment as the 20-inch main."

Because of the extra long dock, the aldermen had convened at 5 o'clock and were to take a recess for lunch at 6. At 5:50 President George Pratt proposed an informal discussion of a few minutes to obtain ideas as to how the aldermen can expedite business. He said "Efforts are being made to expedite the business of the Board. The volume has increased greatly in late years and should be handled more comfortably for the aldermen, so that the sessions will not last until well after midnight." He Chairman Weeks of the Finance Committee remarked that the time has come when something should be done to make the progress of orders through committees more orderly. He believed that no matters should be considered at meetings which had not been presented in time to be thoroughly discussed at preceding committee meetings. Chairman Earle of the Public Works committee stated that his committee had made it a practice to meet on the Monday before each aldermanic meeting and discuss all matters coming before it, except in exceptional cases. He suggested that much of the delay at Board meetings has been caused by the numerous speakers who have aired their views on trivial matters at public hearings. President Pratt asked City Solicitor Bartlett if the Board possesses the right to limit the number of speakers at hearings, or the time during which they may speak. Mr. Bartlett replied that the aldermen can pass any such rule as it sees fit.

Alderman Bail suggested that it might be well to request persons attending hearings to agree on certain spokesmen rather than have a score of persons advance the same arguments, and thus consume 45 minutes of time where a few minutes would suffice. Alderman Weeks opposed any limitations being placed on the number of speakers or on the length of their speeches. He opined that the aldermen are present at meetings to serve the people and give all the right to be heard. Alderman Hodgdon agreed with him, stating that if the Board attempts to curtail speaking at hearings, it may be accused of discrimination. Alderman Bail stated that the members of the press should not give the impression that the aldermen had any idea of suppressing free speech. The board took a recess at 6:10, to eat. The members returned to City Hall, around 7:30 and resumed the meeting at 7:45. About 150 persons crowded into the aldermanic chamber to participate in and listen to the discussions over the hearings on the many petitions coming before the aldermen.

Five hearings on petitions for five more gasoline stations occupied considerable time, but the "feature event" of the evening was a lively "free for all" argument concerning the changing the section bounded by Boylston, Floral and Centre Streets, from general residence to business zone. Details of these hearings are given under separate headings. Apart from the time consumed in the public hearings, the aldermen delayed little in wading through the large amount of business to be transacted and completed their work at 10:40, in order to travel to Upper Falls to witness the spectacle of the water main being cleaned.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Alonzo H. Blood, of 39 Wesley Street, Newton, who was hit last Friday, while crossing Centre Street, by an auto owned by Farese of Watertown, and driven by Frank Egizio of 128 Main Street, Watertown, died Wednesday, at the Newton Hospital, as a result of his injuries.

Mr. Blood was 76 years of age, and had been principal of the Walpole High school. He received considerable publicity last year, concerning his contemplated marriage to his fiancée, Mrs. Eunice Esten, who was over 70 years of age. When Mr. Blood arrived in Newton from New York, last June, to marry Mrs. Esten, she had become so ill, that the ceremony could not be performed. She died shortly afterwards.

Mr. Blood is survived by one son, A. C. Blood. A second son, Richard Blood, died about a year ago. The funeral services for Mr. Blood were held Thursday, in the chapel of the Winchester Cemetery, where he was buried.

NEWTON SPORTS

fifth frames the colored boys scored one run in each inning. With darkness coming on fast the visitors put the game on ice in the seventh inning, by scoring five runs. With one out and the bases filled Chet Lomax slammed the ball over the fence for a two-bagger to start the fireworks. Centre-fielder, Paddy Mullins of the Highlands team raced into deep left centre and robbed the same Lomax of a sure triple on a previous time at bat, by one of the most spectacular catches ever seen on the local field.

Scoring two runs in the first inning the West Newton A. C. threw a scare into the Newton Catholic Club in a two-league game on the West Newton Common Wednesday night. The Catholic Club with Ryan on the mound held the colored team scoreless for the remainder of the game and after battling to even terms finally won out 4 to 2. Cooper pitched a good game for West Newton but after the first inning his teammates could not find Ryan for the necessary hits to tally.

L. M. Barry was among the winners in the first round matches of the second annual golf tournament of the Bethlehem Country Club, Bethlehem, N. H., which started yesterday.

Auburndale by winning both of its league games this week moved up one notch as did the W. N. A. C., which broke even. The loss of one game by the Cardinals dropped them from fourth place in the standing to sixth. The Earnshaw took over the Pals, Wednesday night, and pulled them down to a tie for the cellar position.

WINS THREE TIMES

Arthur D. Noble, a member of the high school tennis team, played in four finals at Swampscott yesterday in the North Shore junior tennis tournament held at the Tedesco Country Club. The Newton Centre youth won three out of the four. In the boys' singles he won the championship by defeating John Richardson, Jr., of Rockport in a three-set match, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3. He also captured the junior boys' title by easily defeating Arthur W. Huguley of Milton in straight sets 6-1, 6-1.

Teaming with Miss Virginia Rice of Swampscott who also figured in four finals of which she also won three, they defeated Eleanor Holton and Arthur Huguley after dropping the first set. The score was 2-6, 6-1, 8-6. Miss Rice also won the girls' singles and with her teammate won the girls' doubles.

PLAYGROUND FESTIVALS

L. Forbush. It was a pity that such a notable exhibition could not have been enjoyed under better conditions. The officials of the festival were particularly disappointed in not being able to show splendid handwork made by the young children and older people on the Hawthorn playground under the direction of Miss Swartz.

The folk dances, under the direction of Mrs. Hills and Miss Kerivan, were beautifully done. All the directors brought their children to the playground from other playgrounds and deserve much credit for the performance and deportment of their children.

At the close of the afternoon His Honor, Mayor Childs and Mr. Albert P. Carter, chairman of the Playground Commission, presented the prizes. Mayor Childs in a few well chosen words complimented the directors and the children. Mr. Carter then presented prizes to the prize winners.

The Newton Centre Play Festival was very successfully run off on Wednesday on the Newton Centre playground. A vast crowd of children and a good sized crowd of parents and other interested spectators, enjoyed the performance of the children in the beautiful setting of this magnificent playground. The splendor of the playground alone seemed to find great favor with many spectators who spoke about it repeatedly. There were many visitors from out of town and the grand stand was filled to capacity and both sides of the grand stand were filled with the overflowing crowd besides many who sat under the trees all around the grounds. Mr. Rufus H. Bond, the district director for the Newton Centre, Thompsonville, Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls and Waban playgrounds opened up his exercises by marching the children from the side of the field to the center where he led them in the Salute to the Flag and the singing of "America." After that one beautiful feature followed another in rapid succession. There were races for both boys and girls. The final games for the district championship in football, dodge ball, schlag ball, and Snatch the Bean Bag were played.

The Most Wonderful Book in the World

MORE than thirty million Bibles or Books of the Bible were sold or distributed in 1925.

Would you not love to have companion volumes to help you discover the treasures in that Wonderful Book?

SWEDENBORG

explained the Bible's practical application to daily life; how it describes the life hereafter; what the Bible parables mean when spiritually interpreted.

His theological works—as issued by himself—have been published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. in most modern translation from the original Latin, in the Rotch Edition of 32 volumes. The first twenty give the spiritual sense of Genesis and Exodus as understood in Heaven; and volumes 26, 27, 28 give likewise the spiritual sense of the Book of Revelation.

Volume 29, Marriage Love, views from the union of the Divine Love and the Divine Wisdom the Law of Sex throughout all creation. It shows the crown and jewel of the Christian Religion, the union of one with one only. Price $2.00.

Volumes 30, 31, 32, contain a full statement of the True Christian Religion as revealed from Heaven. $3.00 the set.

The whole 32 volumes in half-morocco at $125; in buckram, $40.

The following are the best introductory books to the Revelations of SWEDENBORG. They are in large print, bound in buckram, and contain from 260 to 485 pages.

Who Was Swedenborg?

Emanuel Swedenborg, the son of a bishop, was the great Swedish scientist, philosopher and theologian, whose vast range caused Emerson to term him the mastodon of scholars. Dr. Parkes Cadman recently named him the Universal Genius. Officially connected, by appointment of the King, with the great mining industry of Sweden, he mastered all the sciences of his time, and wrote the most useful books on metallurgy, minerals, geology, astronomy, and the human brain. His life search was for the human soul. How his spiritual senses were opened, after he was 50 years of age, that he might reveal the human soul, the life after death, and the Bible itself, may be read in the above named, uplifting, useful books.

Galli-Curci Swayed by the Seer of Sweden

Prima Donna Gives Wonderful Interpretation of the Writings of Emanuel Swederborg—

HENRY FORD'S Dearborn Independent publishes a remarkable article on Galli-Curci and Emanuel Swedenborg, by Clarence W. Barron of the Wall Street Journal, the world famous financial authority. Mr. Barron declares that Galli-Curci has the most wonderful brain he has ever met or heard of in a woman, although she is much more "a true woman with a life and soul of affection for all that is ennobling and uplifting in the family, and in color, form, and music."

Mr. Barron is chairman of the Rotch Trustees, who acting under the will of Lydia S. Rotch of New Bedford, Mass., began in 1872 a modern translation of the Theological Works which Emanuel Swedenborg wrote and published in the Latin tongue, and deposited in the libraries of the world 150 years ago.

This work was completed and published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. in 32 volumes in 1907.

About three years ago there appeared in a Cleveland paper a paragraph that among her other accomplishments Galli-Curci had read all the Theological Writings of Emanuel Swedenborg. The claim seemed so absurd to Mr. Barron that he thought it might be easily punctured by a simple inquiry as to the edition.

The Bible a Greater Work Than Ever To Mr. Barron's direct inquiry Madame Galli-Curci promptly replied: "Yes, I have read in the past year the complete Swedenborg Works, in fact it is the Rotch Edition of the Houghton Mifflin Co. that I have."

"I can say certainly that the Bible to me is a greater work than it was before."

Mr. Barron says: "My astonishment was intensified. Familiar over many years with Swedenborg's general theological writings, I had set out to read the entire thirty-two volumes preparatory to an advertising campaign for the sale of this edition. Reading a few pages each day I finished my self-imposed task in fourteen years. I shall probably finish a second reading, at my present rate of progress, in perhaps ten years. Was it possible that a woman with no previous knowledge or relation to these books had really intelligently read them within a year?"

Swedenborg's Writings Mr. Barron continues: "As an economist writing state papers on weights, measures, coinages and currencies, Swedenborg is easily comprehended. As an engineer transporting ships overland he is easily visualized. As a government official in the great mining industry of Sweden, writing practical books on mining and smelting, declared to be the foundation of modern metallurgy, he is of interest in the encyclopedia of scientific history. As the writer of volumes—original studies in search for the human soul—he is not without human interest."

"But when one comes to the realm of the unseen, where there is neither time nor space upon which to rest mental conceptions, few may enter into the fullness of the revelation which has come into the libraries of the world through Emanuel Swedenborg."

"Think of twenty modern-sized volumes, originally written in the Latin tongue and unfolding from the Hebrew of 'Genesis' and 'Exodus' the internal or spiritual sense that lies beneath the letter. Annex a dozen more similar volumes that not only expound every picture set forth in the book of 'Revelation' as conveyor of a tremendous truth of universal application throughout invisible degrees of creation and life, but also illumine all the problems of sex as presented throughout the universe from the union of the love and wisdom in the divine down to sex crystallization in the mineral kingdom; include the deepest of all works ever written entitled, in the original Latin, 'Angelic Wisdom Concerning the Divine Love and the Divine Wisdom.'"

Combined Prayer and Hygiene. The Mohammedan daily prayer ritual, prescribing movements and the ablutions which should precede them, is said by Dinguili to have been devised by the prophet with the hygienic value of the exercise and washings in mind.

Ray Bits of Wisdom. Grief and passion are like floods raised in little brooks by the sudden rain.—Dryden.

Making Opportunities. A wise man makes more opportunities than he finds.—Bacon.

GROUNDS IMPROVED AT FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH

Men have been at work for several days removing the Boston Ivy vines from the First Unitarian Church, at West Newton. The exterior of the church building has been covered with Boston Ivy and English Ivy. The Boston Ivy is much more rugged than the plant imported from overseas and was rapidly killing the English Ivy. As the latter is considered more preferable, the vines of the native Ivy have been torn off the walls. It was a slow and hazardous job. The shrubs along the wall next to the sidewalk are also to be removed. They have grown too tall and cannot be effectively trimmed. They will be replaced by a privet hedge.

A BROTHERHOOD OF NATIONS

The following address was delivered at the University of California at Berkeley, last month, by Professor J. S. Young of Minnesota, to members of the National Editorial Association.

I have been asked to speak for a few moments on the subject of internationalism or the larger co-operation. I am glad to speak to editors because you occupy a position of leadership, and are constantly emphasizing team work or co-operation in your local communities in the state and in the United States, and many of you have been doing yeoman service for international co-operation.

Several years ago the great lecturer Joseph Cook said the Nineteenth Century has made the world a neighborhood—the Twentieth is to make it a brotherhood. Your attention is invited to two important key words in this statement, namely: neighborhood and brotherhood. Taking these in order, let us examine a few facts that prove the world is a neighborhood. All will agree that international law had its inception in 1648, in the Treaty of Westphalia that closed the thirty years war. Two outstanding facts of international law are independence of states and equality of states. But this doctrine was not sooner announced than it was quickly proved that states are not equal nor are they completely independent. They are unequal and interdependent. What has brought this about? Undoubtedly commerce, industry, and business have been influential factors. If one reads history clearly, it will be recognized that the older civilizations were river civilizations or nerve currents that run up and down the Nile, the Ganges, the Euphrates, and the Yangtze-Kiang. Then, with the spread of Roman power, these civilizations were centered in the Mediterranean Sea which became eventually a Roman lake. But with the advent of modern history, the discovery of new islands and new continents, the center of commercial and business gravity shifted to the Atlantic Ocean where it now is. With the digging of the Panama Canal, the center of business and commercial gravity may shift to the Pacific Ocean within the lifetime of some of the younger members of this present group. It is exchange between different countries that has brought about interdependence. In other words, it is the satisfaction of our wants. The great transcontinental trains, the great ocean greyhounds that plow the high seas are the shuttles that are constantly weaving a warp and woof of international comity, goodwill, understanding, and interdependence. Finance and credit have their important far-flung world relationships. Various international agreements tend to the same end. Take the International Telegraph Union. In 1906, there was a convention at Berlin and twenty-six of the world's powers became members of this union, and now with the advent of the wireless system, the need for unity of effort becomes still more apparent. There is an International Postal Union which was brought about on the initiative of citizens of the United States of America, and today fifty-five of the world's powers are members. A five-cent postage stamp will take a letter to the remotest corner of the earth, which simple international signal code for navigation routes, night signals, etc. In the international maritime law was codified at Brussels in 1905 and again in 1909. The locomotive engine was brought to some state of perfection in the Twenties. In 1847, there was a union of the German railway administration, and it was a Swiss expert that called the Berne Conference, and there has been a great central bureau of the airships, the need for co-operation in navigating this new transportation medium—the air—is strikingly emphasized. There is also a metric union. Through it, there is a unification of standards of weights and measures. We have international protection of industrial, literary, and artistic property. Through the protection of the international copyright that are members of the International author may publish a manuscript simultaneously in all the countries of the world. We have had various sugar conventions, and there is a great agricultural institute at Rome which was brilliantly presided over for many years by a citizen of the United States of America. Furthermore, our newspapers and magazines bring the happenings of the whole world into focus. We think now not in terms of islands, parishes, and continents, but in terms of the whole planet with the entire human race as one great family. Finally, education, science and scholarship are international in nature and cannot be fenced in and confined to any particular country. Peary discovers the North Pole because of the previous work done by a Danish Bering, an English Franklin, and a Norwegian Nansen. Our own American archaeologist Plattner publishes "Topography and Monuments of Ancient Rome" because of the researches of a German, a Hellenic, an Italian, a Lancian, and an Englishman. Our own colonial Goethals digs the Panama Canal by utilizing the services as well as avoiding the mistakes of his French predecessors. The German Zeppelin astounds the world with his dirigible balloon by profiting through the imperfect conquest of the air by such men of science as Lussac of France, and Green and Coxwell of England. The work of Shakespeare, Stephen, Goethe, Emerson, Pasteur, Marconi, Morse and Edison are world contributions. Art products and scientific activities are international possessions held in trust for humanity. There are 614 international organizations and institutions in the scholastic and scientific world including at least a pair of nations, many of them holding periodical world congresses. We have interchange of professors and college students. All will agree that we are coming towards a standardization of the world. A Philadelphia locomotive will run on any standard gage track in the world and has interchangeable parts. We must now realize that we have world economics and markets with world credit resting upon international faith.

Turning now to the idea of brotherhood—take the alleviation of human suffering in war. It was a Swiss physician that saw the needless suffering at the Battle of Solferino. As a result of this, Switzerland called a conference in 1864, and the result was the organization of the Red Cross Society which claimed so much of our attention during the world war. In 1863, at the call of Russia, there was a conference on the character of weapons used in war. The result was the convention of Geneva in 1864, which rules were revised in 1906, and the principles extended by the first and second Hague conferences to naval warfare. There was a great conference at Brussels several years ago on the slave trade, and today slavery is all but abolished in the wide world. Another great conference was held at Zurich, which considered the suppression of the white slave trade and formulated principles and methods for its abolition, which if it is ever brought about must be through international co-operation.

We have had various international conferences on hygiene and demography, on crimes and prison reform. We have international peace treaties and arbitration looking towards the postponement of war and the prevention of hair-trigger action such as brought on the late world war. A crowning act of international co-operation is the setting up of the international court of justice to which we have just recently acceded. The Roman Catholic church is world wide in its ramifications and is one of the greatest unifying forces that can be mentioned. There are also great ecclesiastical councils, federated church clubs, students, volunteers, Y. M. C. A.'s, foreign missionaries, rotary societies, etc., all emphasizing the idea of international brotherhood. There is actually an international public opinion, which is emphasized in all the official books put out by the participants in the late World War, when each one undertook to court and get the benefits of world public opinion. It is said that there is such a thing as physical sympathy in the air the level and water. It is a fact that an earthquake in San Francisco started volcanoes going in Japan. If sympathy is a fact in the physical world, it is also a fact in human relation. A famine in India, forest fires in California, Oregon, Washington, and Minnesota sets that every man wears in his breast attire. Brotherhood is a fundamental fact that needs to be recognized in all our human relationships. Now that the World War is over, it is not time for all of us to stop preaching the philosophy of suspicion, hate and jealousy, and begin emphasizing toleration? In the past we had Jews and gentiles, Greeks and barbarians, Romans and aliens, and we still have various forms of exclusion laws.

What I am pleading for is not, "I am as good as you are, but you are as good as I am." There is a big difference between these two. Is it not a fact that we must stand cheek by jaw? I am pleading for such a spirit of toleration as was emphasized a few years ago by a working man in Chicago when in speaking to other working men he used the following words: "Boys, we must forget the sheeniness of the Hebrew and Dagone of the Italian. Yes, even the Irishness of the policeman must be forgotten in the meanness of man. The meanness of meism must give way to the allness of welism." Here is the philosophy of internationalism stated in homely phrase. It is the philosophy of all of us co-operating or doing team work by suppressing somewhat the meanness of meism. The same idea is emphasized by Tennyson in his Lockley Hall, in the following words:

Love took up the harp of life and smote on all the cords with might; smote the cord of self that trembling passed in music out of sight.

Matthew Arnold once said: "Conceive of the whole group of civilized nations as being for intellectual and spiritual purposes one great federation bound to a common action and working towards a common result: a confederation whose members have as due knowledge both of the part out of which they all proceed and of each other." We do not so much need to disarm as to disfeard the world.

The unity of the world is real. What is needed is an organization that will suitably integrate all these forces. What individual races, nations, and countries, need to learn is the lesson of being reduced to a kind of least common denominator and learn the great mathematical lessons of social service which are if we would add we must first subtract; if we would multiply we must first divide. What we need is to stop living in our various podunks because if our vision is no wider than podunk, we will think podunkianly.

You editors and writers are in positions of leadership in this great swelling movement for larger co-operation or internationalism.

NEW POLICE AMBULANCE

The new Packard police ambulance is now in service. In appearance, it might pass for a bank car, with its heavily protected windows. It is much better equipped than the ordinary ambulance and has facilities for carrying three persons. The body was especially designed.

READING'S RECORD

You know Mr. Reading's record. It is an open book, four years in the legislature, where he served as chairman of the important committee on metropolitan affairs and four years as the best district attorney Middlesex County ever had. It is not sufficient that an attorney general shall be honest merely, he must be fearless, able and competent. Most important of all in these times, as chief law enforcement officer the attorney general must exercise general supervision over the district attorneys and the administration of the criminal law. He must be a man of broad experience, sound judgement, unquestioned integrity, independence and ability. He must have no questionable alliances and no political debts to pay. From his record of accomplishment it is plain to see that Mr. Reading best meets those requirements, a record that neither can complacent mediocrity erase one blot line of it nor youthful insolence blot out a single word of it.

PETITIONS FOR GAS STATIONS KEEP COMING

The aldermen were lavish in their granting of permits for gasoline filling stations, Wednesday evening. Every petition which had been under consideration was reported favorably by the License Committee, and granted by the Board. The resolution passed by last year's Board—that no new filling station permit shall be granted within a half-mile of an existing station," has dissipated into thin air.

The first permit granted was on the petition of Albert T. Stuart and others, representing the Highland Oil Company, for a wholesale station of capacity adjoining the Highland Mills off Needham Street, Newton Highlands. Mr. Stuart was also granted a permit for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Centre and Walnut Streets. This is the location on which a permit for a filling station was unsuccessfully sought several times in the past three years. Mr. Stuart, in addition to the filling station permit, received a permit for a 75-car public garage, on the remainder of the property at the corner of Centre and Walnut Streets.

Daniel Barnicle was given a permit for a filling station on Lexington Street, on the vacant lot adjoining his store. His attorney was ex-Alderman
Harry Ross. Another client of Mr.
Ross, David Wolk of Malden, was given a permit for a filling station on the corner of Boylston and Woodward Streets, Newton Highlands, the driveways to be restricted to Woodward Street. Mr. Wolk recently bought this lot from Mr. Cozens and strong opposition developed against his petition for the filling station. The protesting neighbors were brought to a willingness to permit the station when it was threatened that a block of stores would be erected on the corner.

The petition of Newton Turner for a filling station at 322 Washington Street, was not reported upon favorably with the others. It apparently was the subject of more prolonged discussion in the committee. But, later in the evening, the License Committee reported favorably on it. Alderman Earle registered an objection to a permit being granted there. He said that while he does not seriously object to more permits being granted, a permit had been refused another petitioner on this locus a year ago, and the same abutters who objected then, object now; there are about all the gas stations in Newton, that are required. Alderman Bliss, answered that inasmuch as Mr. Turner conducts a garage and salesroom, it seems consistent that he be accorded a permit for a filling station, as a necessary adjunct to his business. There is very little foot traffic along this part of Washington Street, and the location is not suited for retail stores. The aldermen voted to grant the permit to Mr. Turner.

The four filling station permits having been granted, later in the evening five more petitions were presented for gasoline stations. Marshall B. Hall asked for a permit at 673 Washington Street, Newtonville. He stated that a number of petitions have been presented for a station at this locus, and refused, but as permits are being granted for stations in all sections of the city, he could see no good reason, why he should not likewise receive one.

Attorney Maddocks for the Gulf Refining Company, asked for a permit
at 732 Beacon Street, near Union Street, Newton Centre. He said he would be pleased to answer any question. Alderman Norman Pratt asked if all the 11,000 feet of land will be used by the company for the filling station? Mr. Maddocks answered "No."

G. Wilbur Thompson and Robert Vachon "were from Missouri" concerning the widening of the right of way alongside the proposed locus of the filling station. They stated that having contributed land there for the benefit of the community, they would object to the permit unless the Gulf Company, would agree to an agreement, supposed to have been made with Mr. Rockman, who has developed nearby property, that the right of way be widened 20 feet. Mr. Rockman explained that this condition will be complied with.

James Gibson appeared for Erasmo Divasta, who wants a permit for a filling station at 74 Beacon Street, near Chesley Road. Mr. Gibson, with commendable candor, stated that if the permit will be granted, the property will be sold to an oil company, which will conduct the station. He quoted Fire Chief Randlett as regarding gasoline filling stations as less fire hazards than blocks of stores. He quoted one member of the aldermen, as having said, "We don't want more filling stations." Mr. Gibson commented that it would be as proper to say, "We don't want more grocery stores." Francis Williams, who owns an adjoining house objected on the claim that the filling station will be a source of danger and his tenants will object to
it. G. Wilbur Thompson objected on general principles. He remarked if permits for filling stations will continue to be granted by the aldermen,
Newton will be known as the Gas City, instead of the Garden City. He asserted that the two-apartment house which will be torn down, to make room for the gasoline station, is more needed than is the station, and that it will be located on a dangerous angle. Alderman Norman Pratt remarked that he has received protests against this permit being granted. A man who did not state his name, objected because he regarded the proposed station as a menace to his children.

James P. Gallagher told the aldermen he appeared for the Washburn-Stevens Company, who applied for a filling station permit at 417 Washington Street. He explained that his clients bought the property in 1925, operate it as a high class garage and salesroom, have invested $103,000, in the property, have no outside pump, which is a necessary facility for the proper conduct of their business. He stated that like many that at the first session of the meeting, some hours before, Mr. Bail had suggested that persons might be requested to be brief in their speeches at hearings, his request, at the instigation of Mr. Allen, and the ensuing "free-for-all" argument that followed, seemed a funny sequel. Mr. Allen was granted his request and started to interrogate Patrick Hurley. Then Mr. Hurley, Miss Lane, Mr. Shea and Mr. Walsh replied to Mr. Allen's rebuttal and the suggestions made by some of the aldermen "talking at the informal meeting," appeared to have been logical. The matter was referred to the committee on Claims and Rules.
